

IS TO RAISE SALARY $50

Salary of Probation Officer
Scott Will be $125 Instead of $75

It is probable that the legislature will raise the salary of Probation Officer J. H. Scott, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church, from $75 a month to $125. That is, his salary as probation officer will be raised to $125. The legislature has nothing to do with the salary of the minister, Rev. Scott.

The probation officer is a busy personage. The proposal to raise his salary met with the approval of those having the county probation work in charge. Concerning the progress made by the measure at Sacramento the Sacramento Union of Monday says:

"Carrying out a previous agreement the roll was called alphabetically and each senator was permitted to call up at least one of his pet measures. Naturally the first name called was that of the good-natured 'frosty-haired orange' from Orange county, Senator Anderson. He was 'Johnny-on-the-spot,' as it must be conceded he always is. His 'pet measure' in this instance proved to be senate bill No. 1240, which amends the juvenile court law to the extent of fixing the salary of the juvenile officer of his county at $125 per month, instead of $75 as now provided by law. It was sent to the Senate with a unanimous recommendation that it pass, each senator reserving the right to amend it on the floor so as to raise the salary of their probation officer if they so desired."

FASHION HINTS

Favorite materials for children's dresses are gingham, percale, linen, and chambray.

Bulgarian embroidery is being used both on white and colored dresses for children.

On the more dressy frock, buttons and buttonholes are arranged in a slanting fashion.

The new tailored coats have soft dainty linings of flowered mousseline or embroidered linen.

The coats of the new tailored suits show diversity in styles—blouses, cut away and straight-cut Chinese coats are all fashionable.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

CLEAN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

In a few moments your hair looks soft, fluffy, lustrous and abundant—No falling hair or dandruff

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

ENGINE STRIKES TWO HORSES; ONE KILLED

ORANGE, March 27.—An odd accident occurred yesterday afternoon on the Santa Fe railroad tracks between this city and Anaheim in which two horses played conspicuous parts. They had been left by their owner, D. G. Reeves, a rancher, to run loose in a field. They wandered over to the railroad tracks just in time to get in front of the noon Los Angeles-bound train. The engine struck both equines, killing one outright, and throwing the other a considerable distance into a ditch. The latter arose somewhat dazed but uninjured. The horse that was killed was valued at $300.

HEADACHY, BILIOUS, UPSET? "CASCARETS"

It's Your Inactive Liver and Bowels—You Need Cas-carets Sure

You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and intestines can be quickly cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

SHE DIDN'T LIKE CARLYLE.

Janet Ross Tells a Couple of Tales to Justify Her Aversion.

Two good stories of Carlyle appear in "The Fourth Generation," by Janet Ross, the daughter of the brilliant Lady Duff Gordon.

"The one of our many visitors to Queen square whom I cordially disliked was Mr. Carlyle. He was a great friend of Mrs. Austin and professed to admire Lucykin, as he called my mother, very much. One afternoon he had a discussion with her on German literature, and her wonderful eloquence and fire prevailed. Carlyle lost his temper and burst forth in his Scotch tongue, 'You're just a windbag. Lucie; you're just a windbag.' I had been listening with all my ears, as my grandmother always spoke with such enthusiasm about him; but, furious at my mother being, as I thought, 'called names' by so uncouth a man, I interrupted and exclaimed, 'My papa says men should be civil to women!' For which pert remark I was reproved by my mother. Mr. Carlyle, however, was not offended and only observed, 'Lucykin, that child of yours has an eye for an inference.'"

At a later age she had this experience with him: "My cousin, Henry Reeve, 'the great Henry,' as we called him, while others irreverently knew him as 'Baron Puffendorf,' was always kind to me. When I stayed with him in Rutland Gate I took up with my cob, and we used to ride in the park with his friend, Charles Greville, whom I did not much like, with Deane, jaunty and kindly, who had a smile and a nod for every one and looked fresher than many of the young girls, although he was up till 2 or 3 every morning at the Times office, and with Mr. Carlyle.

"Henry welcomed Carlyle with effusion, but generally managed that Deane or Charles Greville should ride with him, while I had to go with Carlyle. One day as we were trotting his wideawake blew off. A civil workman picked it up and ran after us. Instead of giving him a sixpence or even a twopenny, Carlyle said: 'Thank you, my man. You can just say I've picked up the hat of Thomas Carlyle.' I felt so ashamed that I told Eothen he must come and meet me in the park and take me away from the sage."

BULLIOT'S RASH BET.

A Banker's Wagers on St. Swithin's Day Rain Legend.

There were few frenzied financiers in England at the beginning of the eighteenth century if the banker Bulliot, of whom the following story is told, can be taken as an example: The feast of St. Swithin, July 15, 1725, was a particularly wet and stormy day.

Trusting implicitly in the old superstition which says that if it rains on St. Swithin's day it will rain for forty days thereafter, Bulliot opened a pool for every one who was willing to bet against him. The affair attained so much notoriety that the wager was reduced to writing.

"If, dating from St. Swithin's day," reads the memorandum, "it rains more or little during forty days successively Bulliot will be considered to have gained, but if it cease to rain for only one day during that time Bulliot has lost."

For two weeks it continued to shower every day, and so confident did the banker become that he accepted as stakes not only money, but gold headed canes, jewels, snuffboxes and even clothes. When his cash gave out he offered notes and bills of exchange. Another week passed, and Bulliot's star was still in the ascendant.

But when the twenty-second day sank into the west bright and cloudless the unfortunate banker was ruined.—London Graphic.

Naming a Town.

The late Colonel Sanders was canvassing Montana for votes for himself for governor. He came to a little settlement, not yet named.

He met a man and said, "I am Wilbur F. Sanders."

"Yes," said the man.

"I am running for governor. Will you vote for me, my friend?"

"No."

"Well," said Sanders, producing a bottle, "will you have a drink?"

"You bet!" said the man.

And that is actually the way the town of Ubet got its name.—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

Doesn't Like to Move.

A most curious and sluggish creature is the tautawa, a nine inch lizard whose home is in New Zealand. This little imitation saurian has the reputation of being the laziest creature ever created. He is usually found clinging to rocks or logs along the shores of rivers and lakes and has been known to remain in one position perfectly motionless for many months. How the creature manages to exist is a mystery.

A Basis of Confidence.

"By Jove," said Wilkes after the vaudeville performance was over, "it must take a lot of nerve for that man to lean up against a board while his wife hurled all those knives at him."

"Nerve nothing!" retorted Bilkes. "He's perfectly aware she couldn't hit him if she tried."—Harper's.

Explained.

"I hear Miss Strongmind has chucked poor Thompson," said Dabney.

"Sad, but true," said Wilkins.

"Why, I always thought Thompy was a brick," said Dabney.

"He is," said Wilkins. "That's why she threw him, I guess."—Judge.

STANTON TALKS OF QUITTING BUSINESS

Movement Inaugurated for the Disincorporation of the Thriving City

SPECIAL REGISTRATION DEPUTIES APPOINTED

Mass Meeting Held at Which Perplexing Question Is Freely Discussed

The city of Stanton may disincorporate.

At a town meeting held last night, which was attended by about forty taxpayers and other citizens, there was a long and animated debate on the proposition to quit business as an incorporated municipality, and to once more be free and loose from formal local government.

For many weeks the question of disincorporation has been agitating the people of Stanton, of whom it is claimed there are more than 2000 within the corporation boundaries. Considerable interest is taken in the proposition, and it is said that opinion is about equally divided.

Advocates of disincorporation maintain that there is no further necessity for paying for special municipal government as at present enjoyed, since the main reason for incorporation has been accomplished. This was the prevention of Anaheim making the Stanton section the dumping ground for its sewage.

The mass meeting last night elected S. H. De Witt and E. G. Alton to officiate as deputy county clerks to look after the registration of voters, and their appointment was formally recommended to County Clerk Williams, who promptly complied with the request.

Alton and De Witt will endeavor to give every qualified voter in the city an opportunity to register, and also to sign the petition favoring disincorporation. After this formality has been attended to, the petition will be filed with the city clerk of Stanton, and then the date of the election will be fixed.

Punishment For a Thief.

"Richard, by the grace of God, king of England.  If any one cast any reproach or bad word against another or invoke God's malediction on him let him for every offense pay an ounce of silver. Let a convicted thief be shorn like a prizefighter, after which let boiling pitch be poured on his head and a feather pillow be shaken over it so as to make him a laughing stock. Then let him be put ashore at the first land where the ships touch. Witness myself at Chignon." These are two of the ordinances of Chignon quoted by Miss Maude M. Holbach in "In the Footsteps of Richard Coeur de Lion."

Sharp Practice.

"I took her home in a taxicab. She asked me to come in and meet her mother. I told the taxicab man to wait. Her mother proved very enterprising."

"Yes."

"The taxicab man waited two hours."

"What's the answer?"

"Why, I found out afterward that her mother was a stockholder in the taxicab company."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Awkwardly Put.

This is one of the things one would rather have put differently: Mr. Bumblepup (at fancy dress ball)—I must apologize for coming in ordinary evening dress. Hostess—Well, you really have the advantage of us. We're all looking more foolish than usual, and you're not.—London Punch.

Crushed.

"If I could only die and leave you well off," he said after they had had their first quarrel, "I would be glad to go."

"How," she cruelly asked, "could you die and leave me otherwise than well off?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Rather Harsh.

The famous baritone had been giving his concert and the critic from the country was asked:

"How was the timbre of his voice?"

"Well," said the critic, "it seemed to me to be full of knotholes."—Harper's.

Correct Diagnosis.

Patient—Shall I have to give up beer, doctor? Doctor—No; I shan't forbid it to you. Patient—It's extraordinary, doctor, what confidence I have in you. —Fleigende Blatter.

A Mental Marvel.

Gabe—Has Jones a good memory? Steve—I should say he has. He can name you the last six vice presidents of the United States.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HISTORIC BOULDER BLOWN OUT

Famous "Rock of Ages" on N. P. Road in Montana Dynamited as it Had Become Unsafe

MISSOULA, Mont., March 27.—The "Rock of Ages," a balancing pile which has graced a hill overlooking the Northern Pacific tracks at Bearmouth, a small station east of Missoula, by the liberal use of dynamite has been removed and is no longer a curiosity and food for the picture card man it has been for decades.

The Northern Pacific railway recently discovered that the rock, which balanced on another stone, swayed and tottered with each gust of wind and was a menace to the safety of the road's trains.

The famous old boulder had come to be regarded as one of the historic marks of the state. It weighed in the neighborhood of 100 tons, was twenty feet high, and while eighteen feet through at the thickest portion, rested on a base not more than six inches through.

NEW RIG FOR NEW FULLERTON WELL

FULLERTON, March 27.—The Olinda Land company has just completed a new rig for a new well, No. 13. Number 5 has just been placed on the pump at a depth of 3300 feet, and is proving to be a good producer. This company is now pumping seven wells.

The Santa Fe has just finished and put on the pump another new well at a depth of 4200 feet. It is said to be producing about 300 or 400 barrels a day.

The Monte Cristo will begin drilling a well on the Armstrong property near Placencia soon. The bunk-house has been finished and the lumber for a rig is on the ground.

The drillers have been fishing for the tools in the Thomas Strain well for several weeks, but have not been able to locate them yet.

A Convert.

"Does your wife want the vote?"

"No. She wants a larger town house, a villa on the seacoast and a new limousine car every six months. I'd be pleased most to death if she could fix her attention on a small matter like the vote."—Washington Star.

UNCLE SAM'S BIG FREE LIST

Does one American in a hundred realize that more merchandise comes into the United States duty free every year than goods which pay. We emit loud cries about custom house impositions, unmindful of the fact that $1,084,000,000 worth of foreign products came in last year without a cent to pay, or 54 per cent of our total imports. These figures have troubled in the past twelve years.

Many of the articles of largest consumption in the United States are on the free list. Here are some of the leading items and their worth which were imported into the country during 1912:

Coffee, $121,000,000; hides and skins, $121,000,000; India rubber, $99,000,000; raw silk, $77,000,000; copper, $57,000,000; pig tin, $50,000,000; fibers, $39,000,000; raw cotton, $24,000,000; fruits and nuts, $21,000,000; tea, $18,000,000; fertilizers, $18,000,000; cocoa, $17,000,000; uncut diamonds, $10,000,000, and art works over twenty years old, $60,000,000.

ANARCHISTS AND CRANKS

The ghastly death roll of assassinated rulers, published in connection with the killing of King George of Greece, ought to be read with more than a personal interest by the man who sits in the White House.

To a king or president, the shackles of official restraint must weigh heavily. From Haroun Al Raschid down, monarchs have enjoyed incognito mingling with the people. Probably they have done it more than most people realize. Elbowing along the sidewalk with Tom, Dick and Harry, they feel like the school boy on a vacation. The hysteria of modern life bids fair to end all this kind of play for the great men of the earth.

The danger to the president of the United States is not so much from long-haired anarchists, their heads stuffed with dream philosophies, as from plain every-day fools. The shuffling, shambling down-and-out of the curbstone, who apparently wants nothing better than to swipe a square meal from your refrigerator, may be just the man who carries the gun that may upset business and statecraft by a successful assassination.

The higher speed of labor and business, the growth of enfeebling vices, is filling the insane asylums. With a considerable proportion of these unfortunate, the mania is homicidal. Any such who in more normal days were interested in politics, are first impelled to right popular wrongs by killing a Roosevelt or a McKinley. Violent newspapers which paint opposing politicians as traitors, are the fuel from which these reptile deeds may spring.

President Wilson has given signs of feeling the restraint of armed guards. Let him not yield to such sentiments. Under present conditions, it is ordinary business horse sense for the president to have stiff secret service protection all the time.

REGULAR NEWSPAPER READING

Did you ever stop to think what you miss if you do not make it a regular daily habit to read your local newspaper thoroughly?

Cutting out all question of the educative effect of following public news events, look at it merely for the moment as a question of self interest.

The housewife learns from the newspaper advertising how the cost of living can be reduced. She gathers information as to what her children are doing in school, which may be vital to her hopes for their good scholarship. She learns of concerts and entertainments that add variety and pleasure to her life, which but for newspaper notice she would miss. She learns of chances to secure domestic service.

The business man finds out about openings by which he can turn an honest dollar. He learns how the farmers are selling their crops, what real estate men place on their holdings, who there is seeking employment, and what trade conditions are. Still more important, he learns what his competitors are doing. He gets constant suggestions as to how his commodities can be profitably marketed and meet the popular taste.

The mechanic learns about the business outlook of the factories, and he can thereby form some impression of his chances for steady work or better wages. He learns how his brother workmen in other employments are trying to improve their condition, and he finds chances in the advertising to save money on the food and clothing of his family.

The farmer learns about the crop outlook and the governing values of commodities. He will be continually whipsawed by the produce market unless he studies the newspaper with a microscope for this kind of information.

Is there a single class in this community that does not get a definite, positive return in cash value, from reading each issue of the home newspaper? Is there anyone who can afford not to be a regular subscriber to the home paper?

GLASS IS PECULIAR.

It Has a Number of Curious and Contradictory Qualities.

Glass is one of the most interesting things in the world. It has curious and contradictory qualities, and many astonishing phenomena are connected with it. Brittle and breakable as it is, yet it exceeds almost all other bodies in elasticity.

If two glass balls are made to strike each other at a given force the recoil, by virtue of their elasticity, will be nearly equal to their original impetus. Connected with its brittleness are some very singular facts.

Take a hollow sphere with a hole and stop the hole with the finger, so as to prevent the external and internal air from communicating, and the sphere will fly to pieces by the mere heat of the hand. Vessels made of glass that have been suddenly cooled possess the curious property of being able to resist hard blows given to them from without, but will be instantly shivered by a small particle of flint dropped into their cavities. This property seems to depend upon the comparative thickness of the bottom; the thicker the bottom is the more certainty of breakage by this experiment. Some of these vessels, it is stated, have resisted the stroke of a mallet given with sufficient force to drive a nail into wood, and heavy bodies, such as iron, bits of wood, Jasper, stone, etc., have been cast into them from a height of two or three feet without any effect, yet a fragment of flint not larger than a pea dropped from a height of three inches has made them fly.

ELIZA WAS GENEROUS.

Her Munificent Offer For an Original Five Act Tragedy.

People are likely to look back complacently upon the past in these days of modern progress. When we hear what the most prolific of present day novelists receives a word and what the weekly royalties of any well known playwrights are we say that the literary profession has come into its own. Some hark back to the contrasting tale—that Milton received only 15 for the first copyright of "Paradise Lost," an epic in twelve books containing a total of 10,555 lines, but that was over two centuries ago. Poe received $10 for "The Raven." That may be dismissed with the statement that poetry never paid.

The modern way of making money by literature is even more recent than is generally thought. Alexander Hill of Cincinnati, one of the best known bookmen and collectors of the middle west, has a letter in his collection of autographs that proves this point.

Two generations ago Eliza Logan was a leading actress in America. Read her letter, O budding genius on the typewriter, and be glad that when you are paid it is space rates for the local paper:

Tremont House, Boston, May 17, 1834.
E. Dussault, Jr., Charlestown, Mass.
Sir—I wish an original five act tragedy—the feature to be a heroine, myself the presonator of it; the scene not to be laid in this country; the plot to be optional with the author—for which, if I like it, I will pay $5. Respectfully,
ELIZA LOGAN.

American Leaf Colors.

It has been observed that the leaves of American trees, such as maples, sycamores and so forth, which at home exhibit splendid colors in the autumn, fall below their reputation in this regard when transplanted in England or on the continent of Europe. An English observer, who has been studying the causes of the autumn tints of trees, thinks the superiority of our woodlands arises from the soft and mild yet glowing climatic conditions prevailing here in the fall. England, it is added, is rarely blessed with an Indian summer. When the climatic conditions permit the leaves to retain considerable vitality in the autumn the colored pigment is normally developed; hence the glorious forests of the United States. —Chicago Record-Herald.

Regulating Price of Books.

The price of books was once a matter for legislation in England. An act of 1534, which seems never to have been repealed, provides that any complaint regarding the price of books should be considered by "the lord chamberlain, the lord treasurer and the justices or any two of these," and that those dignitaries should have "power and authority to reform and redress the enhancing of the prices of printed books and to limit the prices of the books and the offenders should lose and forfeit for every book by them sold whereof the price be enhanced the sum of 3s. 6d."—London Mail.

She Didn't Do It.

The family jar waxed fiercer. "You talk about my being to blame for our marrying," shrilly exclaimed Mrs. Vick-Senn. "John Henry, did I hunt you out and then make love to you?"

"No!" he snorted. "But you could have given me the glassy eye and sent me about my business, and you didn't do it, madam—you didn't do it!"—Chicago Tribune.

Capital Punishment.

"Mamma, did you love to flirt when you were young?"
"I am afraid I did, dear."
"And were you ever punished for it, mamma?"
"Cruelly, dear. I married your father."—Paris Rire.

The hours we pass with happy prospects in view are more pleasing than those crowned with fruition.—Goldsmith.

A Contortionist.

"An ideal statesman, in my opinion," replied Senator Sorghum, "is a man who knows how to keep his ear to the ground without lying down on his job."—Washington Star.

NO CASTE AT OXFORD.

Duke's Son and Cook's Son Share Alike in Sports and Studies.

Actually there is no university or college in America at which distinctions of birth or wealth count for less than they do at Oxford. There was once a time when there existed a class of "gentlemen commoners"—John Ruskin, I believe, was one of them—who enjoyed special privileges and exemptions.

But that peculiarity has long since been swept away. Not only are the requirements for graduation identical for all comers, but the social life within each college of the university is open on equal terms to every one on the roll. "Duke's son" and "cook's son" share alike in sports and studies, and it is personal qualities alone that determine the position an undergraduate holds among his contemporaries.

The late F. W. Walker, for many years so successful as high master of St. Paul's school, was once interviewed by the rather snobbish mother of an intended pupil. "Of course," she said, "you are very particular about the parents of the boys you admit to your school." "Not at all, madam," was his reply. "As long as your son behaves decently and attends to his work we shall not ask any questions about his parents."

The head of any college at Oxford or Cambridge might have given a similar answer.—London Cor. New York Post.

SILVER PLATING.

An Accident Pointed the Way to the Original Process.

In 1742 Thomas Bolsover, a mechanic of Sheffield, England, discovered the art of silver plating. He was repairing the handle of a knife in which both copper and silver were used. Accidentally the two metals were fused together. Based upon this observation, he developed the new process.

Upon a thick ingot of copper he bound by iron wire a thinner ingot of silver. The whole was then heated in a reverberatory furnace until the edges of the silver ingot were observed to begin to melt. The two ingots were then removed from the furnace, slowly cooled and pickled, cleaned and rolled to the desired thickness. The result was a plate of copper more or less thinly covered with silver on one side.

This was the first Sheffield plate. For fifty years following the copper was plated on one side only and the cut edges showed the copper. Later the process was so perfected that no copper was left exposed. All the silverplate of the world was made by this process until electroplating was discovered and made commercial.—Popular Mechanics.

Real Use of the Bee's Sting.

"The bee's sting is a trowel, not a rapier," said a nature student. "It is an exquisitely delicate little trowel with which the bee finishes off the honey cell, injects a little preservative inside and seals it up. With its trowel-like sting the bee puts the final touches on the dainty and wonderful work. With the sting it pats and shapes the honey cell, as a mason pats and shapes a row of brick. Before sealing up the cell it drops a wee bit of poison into the honey. This is formic acid. Without it honey would spoil. Most of us think the bee's sting, with its poison, is a weapon only. It is a weapon secondarily, but primarily it is a magic trowel, a trowel from whose end, as the honey cells are built up, a wonderful preserving fluid drips.

STORY OF THE SEXTANT.

A Chance Observation That Gave Godfrey a Great Idea.

The element of chance plays an important role in invention and in no case is this more strikingly illustrated than in that of Thomas Godfrey, the American who improved upon the quadrant, or, rather, devised the sextant, the basic notion for which he got by noting the reflection of the sun from a pall of water.

Godfrey was a glazier by trade, but he had a taste for mathematics and was a man of some culture.

John Hadley had also invented a sextant, apparently a development of a suggestion of Newton's, found among his papers at his death. Godfrey anticipated Hadley by about one year, but for a long time his claims were not recognized. Hadley receiving the entire credit.

The glazier thus received his inspiration for the instrument that was to prove of such value to mariners. One day, while replacing a pane of glass in a window of a house in Philadelphia opposite a pump, he saw a girl, after filling her pail, put it upon the sidewalk. The observant glazier saw the sun reflected from the window on which he had been at work into the bucket of water. His mind quickly perceived the significance of the situation, and he was thus led to the design of an instrument "for drawing the sun down to the horizon," a device incomparably superior to any that had hitherto been used for the ascertainment of angular measurements.—Harper's Weekly.

THE SIMPLE LIFE.

No Trouble For Australian Aborigines to Break Camp.

An Australian aborigine breaks the monotony of his life by frequent visits to other camps, but his preparations for these holidays have a simplicity about them which must appeal to many a worried housewife. It is thus described by Messrs. Spencer and Gillen in "Across Australia."

"Apart from ceremonies and dances, the one great break in the monotony of life is paying visits to strange camps. Packing up is not a tedious process. The man simply walks out of camp, carrying his spears, spear thrower, boomerangs and shield; the woman takes the youngest child across her hip, balances a pichil on her head, and, with one arm round the child and a digging stick in her free hand, she is ready for the road. The girl children and younger women look after the puppies, which are never left behind on any account, and, when unable to walk, are carried in pichils like young babies.

"Two minutes at most is all the time required for an aboriginal family to pack up and start and there is no trouble in regard to the house while the owners are away. If any one chooses to occupy it during their absence he can do so, but the owners will see at a glance who has been in possession while they have been away."

He Found the Ghost.

"Talking about ghosts," said the janitor of one of the best known concert halls in the city, "makes me think of the scare I got the other day when I went into the auditorium after some supplies I had left back on the stage. As I stepped into the place I heard a scraping and hauling on the stage. Some one was puffing and blowing and then whistling a bit. For the moment my hair began to stand up. I managed to get to one of the switches and turned on the light. There was the ghost! One of the piano houses had sent over one of their blind tuners to fix up a piano and there he had been working away in the dark, his tools scattered around the stage and parts of the piano strewn about."—New York Sun.

Hostel and Inn.

At one time the words "hostel" and "inn" were not confined to licensed houses, but were applied to lodging houses. The "inns" of Oxford and Cambridge, very numerous before the introduction of colleges, were regulated by the college authorities. The Inns of court were provided for the accommodation of law students. In olden times country houses of the aristocracy, during the absence of the owners, were used as "inns," or guest houses. It was then the rule to hang out as signs the arms of the owners; hence the origin of public house signs.—London Globe.

Making It Easier.

"George Dinglebat, isn't this the ninth time you have asked me to marry you?"
"Very likely, Laura. And say, why can't we have an understanding in the matter—a division of labor, as it were? I'll do the asking, and you keep tab."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Real Thing.

"Do these emotional actresses ever shed real tears?" asked Mrs. Grouch, between acts.

"Sure," replied Mr. Grouch. "Every now and then they hit a bum town and get a peak at the box office receipts."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BENT BACK THE RULE.

Where Sauce For the Goose Was Not Sauce For the Gander.

In the early days of a certain club of New York, when it was rather harder sledding for the club than it is at the present time, in a meeting of the council the question came up as to the arrears of members' dues, and the treasurer reported that one man was particularly recalcitrant in this regard. It was in the winter, and the club was then maintaining throughout the day and evening beautifully heated and lighted quarters. At this time the only person in the club who frequented it every day was this delinquent, who, in addition to doing a large portion of his writing there, was accustomed to make considerable inroads upon the stationery of the club for home consumption.

At the meeting of the council referred to there was protest against this state of affairs, and a determination was manifest to put an end to it, and after discussion the secretary was instructed to notify the member in question that his name had been dropped from the rolls of the club.

The question then arose whether there was anybody else who was in arrears, whereupon the treasurer reported that this was true of another member.

"Who can that be? Let us make an example of them both," remarked one member, bringing his fist down on the table for emphasis. The reply was that it was Mr. X, the poet.

"Oh, heavens!" replied another. "We can't let X go. He's too important to the club."

Whereupon the resolution was then amended to read as follows: "Resolved, that the secretary be instructed to drop the name of Mr. Q. from the rolls of the club for nonpayment of dues and to retain the name of Mr. X. for the same reason."—Century.

THE COUNTRY BANKER.

His Standing In and His Grip Upon His Own Community.

The first public convenience a new commodity wants is a bank. Ofttimes it comes before the church or a newspaper; but, as a rule, it follows both. It is hard to beat the editor and the preacher.

If the influence exercised by the bankers of our great cities constitutes a menace to the public welfare, what shall we say of the grip that the little bank holds on its community? The so-called "country banker" to succeed must be eminent for all the qualities that make up a truly good man. Usually he is a church member and often a Sunday school teacher. He is consulted by politicians regarding the local government, and the candidate who has his approbation is envied, for he is usually the winner. To the country banker are confided the troubles, domestic as well as financial, of all who have access to him. And everybody seeks to have access.

The banker is first to subscribe to every good cause. He is the community's adviser as to investments and the arbitrator of its business controversies. His word is as good as his bond, and to his credit it must be added that, with rare exceptions, it deserves to be. He asks few favors, and these are always granted. He is the center of the social life of his vicinity. His voice is that of authority. He is loved, respected, admired and feared. The banker is a man of integrity. The slightest cloud on him or on his bank will settle them both. In this matter he stands with the preacher. So, from selfish considerations, if from no other, the banker must be deserving of the trust reposed in him by his fellow citizens.

Who wouldn't be the country banker?—Leslie's.

Ancient Tipping.

Tipping is an exaction of no recent growth. Describing life at the court of King Henry II. of England, Peter of Blois complains of the impertinence of the medieval marshals, whose annoyances continue "until they get something from you and are most ungrateful when they have—nay, open enemies unless your hand is continuously in your pocket," while the "outer porters will tell you the most unblushing falsehoods, and if you are an honest and religious man, but have given them nothing the day before, they will keep you an unreasonable time standing in the rain and mire."

Her Last Card.

"I want a new bonnet, but my husband says he can't afford it."
"Is that final, do you suppose?"
"He says it is, but I won't know until tonight."
"Going to get a definite answer then?"
"Yes. I'm going to settle it one way or the other. I'm going to start to cry when he gets home, and if that doesn't work there'll be no new bonnet."—Detroit Free Press.

All's Fish For the Doctor's Net.

"Why, the size of your bill," cried the angry patient to the doctor, "makes me boil all over!"
"Ah!" said the eminent practitioner calmly. "That will be just $20 more for sterilizing your system."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Purpose and Success.

It is the old lesson—a worthy purpose, patient energy for its accomplishment, a resoluteness undaunted by difficulties and then success.—W. M. Puzshon.

It is seldom that punishment, though lame of foot, has failed to overtake a villain.—Horace.

C. F. Crose Home. Scene of Charming Function Where Old Friends Met Together

Mrs. C. F. Crose was hostess at a delightful social function today, giving a luncheon at her beautiful home for a number of old Iowa friends, most of whom have adopted California as their state. Appropriate to the grand old state from which Mrs. Crose and her guests formerly hailed, Mrs. Crose had designs of corn and golden-rod on the cards that marked the places.

The affair was really a gala event, bringing together many old acquaintances and recalling many delightful events of old long since.

The guest list included the following: Mrs. Frank B. Rankin, Mrs. Johnathan Uhl, Misses Jo and Grace Uhl, Mrs. Z. D. Mathews, Mrs. Wm. White, Mrs. J. S. Stevens, Mrs. John Burrows, Mrs. Dr. John Hopkins, Miss Ella Harvey, Mrs. James Jones, Miss Nellie Rittner of Los Angeles; Mrs. Rea Sutton of Pasadena; Mrs. Martin Dresher of Santa Monica; Mrs. G. B. Beadle, Mrs. A. J. Crose of Long Beach; Mrs. C. L. Frazier and Mrs. Eugene Corwin of Highland; Mrs. Marian Trebbis Cochran of Upland; Mrs. C. E. White of Ontario; Mrs. H. W. Varley of Orange; Miss Maggie Talbot and Mrs. W. H. Crose of Santa Ana; Mrs. Dr. S. C. Chase of Iowa City, Ia.; Mrs. Dr. R. H. Sutton, Mrs. J. A. Masters, Mrs. M. A. Wolford of Shenandoah, Iowa.

A Birthday Surprise
In honor of Mrs. Anderson's birthday a merry crowd invaded the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Anderson, 117 Cypress avenue last evening at 6 o'clock, completely surprising the mistress of the house. Then while her attention was engaged here and there, the visitors placed lovely decorations at advantageous places in the living room, roses in the dining room, a gift picture on the wall and a handsome clock on the mantel.

The invaders also took possession of the dining room and soon had the table fairly loaded with good things to eat, chief of all being a huge birthday cake elaborately decorated. The hour at the table was spent in enjoying not only the choice menu but merry chat. The evening following was equally happy and the memory of the evening will long linger pleasantly with surprised and surprised.

Those present besides Dr. and Mrs. Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McBurney, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. McBurney, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Thacker and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Beale and family, Mrs. W. R. McBurney.

St. Patrick's Tea

The committee on entertainment for March of the Woman's Missionary Society of Spurgeon Memorial church, Mrs. E. A. Clardy, chairman, Mesdames Richard Dabbs, W. T. Kirven, Lillie Nelson, Maria Hill and S. A. Hamilton, has prepared a very pleasant affair for tomorrow afternoon and issues the following poetical invitation:

Come to our St. Patrick's tea
And an Irish maid will wait on thee.
It's to be in the home of Mrs. Clardy,
So be very sure that you're not tardy.
And the course for you to pursue
Is west to 1048 Washington Avenue.
Next Friday the committee from 2 until 5.

Will endeavor to keep all your wits alive.
Bring your husbands in all their glory.
We may want them to tell an Irish story.
Any way they can come and see
What we do at a Patrick's tea.

Union Social

The Philatheas and Baracas of the First Methodist church held a union business and social meeting in the big, attractive banquet room of the church edifice last evening. The first part of the evening was given over to games that were of enlivening nature.

During the business session, Miss Fernie Smith of the Junior Philatheas was chosen press reporter. Other business being disposed of, the company enjoyed appetizing refreshments.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the large attendance and the number of new members. These union meetings are held once a month and are very enjoyable.

FIRST WOMAN SENATOR IN COUNTRY'S HISTORY

This year, in which for the first time a woman cast an electoral vote for a Presidential candidate (even though for a losing one), has also been signaled by the first appearance of a woman as a member of the senate of one of the United States, says the Woman's Home Companion for April. We have had several woman mayors and woman members of the lower houses of state legislatures, but Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson has the distinction of being the first senator of her sex in this country. Colorado has had equal suffrage for nineteen years, and the lower branch of the legislature that met two years ago had four woman members. These women conscientiously championed measures emanating from women's clubs and similar organizations, especially such measures as were framed to better the condition of working women and to safeguard the morals of the young; but at the end of the session, as at the end of preceding sessions, the women of the state found that their pet bills had been so altered in committee and in the senate as to be unrecognizable. So they determined to elect a woman to the upper house to look after their interests in that body. Under the old convention system they could never have secured a place on the ticket for their candidate, but fortunately last year there were no primary conventions in Colorado. Under a new law, all nominations were made by petition, and no other petition filed with the secretary of state carried as many signatures as that for the nomination of Mrs. Robinson. Her election followed by a vote in which party lines were disregarded.

Mrs. Robinson comes from New England; is a graduate of Wellesley. Prior to her marriage with Ewing Robinson, an attorney of Denver, she was a teacher in a school for girls; she has retained her active interest in all educational matters, and her home in Denver is looked upon as something of a cultural center. She has a daughter now attending a preparatory school. Mrs. Robinson took no part in the effort to secure her nomination, confining her campaign to a few public statements in which she epitomized her views, incidentally declaring "concerted motherhood" to be a prime need in legislation.

ORANGE W. C. T. U. OFFICERS
Mrs. Frances Paine, President for 22 Years, Declines Office; Soon Moves to Berkeley
The Orange News in a report of the postponed annual business meeting of the Orange W. C. T. U., held at the home of Mrs. W. D. Granger this week, says of Mrs. Frances Paine, well known and greatly esteemed in Orange county; Mrs. Frances Paine, who has so ably served as president of this union for twenty-two years, resigned, as she is to remove from Orange to Berkeley in the near future, which necessitated the election of a new president to work and plan for the future. Rev. Agnes Ralph very beautifully conveyed the regrets of the union to the much-loved retiring president with best wishes for her future, and a hope that sometime she will return and again take up the work among us. To which Mrs. Paine appropriately replied.

Rev. Agnes Ralph was elected president; Mrs. W. D. Granger, vice president; Mrs. M. E. Frazier, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. B. Field, recording secretary; Mrs. I. E. Newton, treasurer.

AT THE REEVES HOME

Birthday Event for Miss Seaton and Dinner Party for Dakota Friends

In honor of the birthday of Miss Carrie Seaton, Mrs. H. H. Reeves, her sister, last night gave a very delightful dinner and flinch party, the guests being the young ladies employed in the Farmers & Merchants and First National Banks, Miss Seaton having been associated with both banks at different times and having most pleasant relations in both.

Dinner served in four courses was spread at 6 o'clock and the table decorations were of wild violets and fresias. Flinch followed the repast and was played progressively. Miss Minnie Smith was winner of the interesting first prize and the honoree, Miss Seaton, took the consolation award. However, Miss Seaton was really consoled or rather made very happy by the token of friendship presented to her by the company of charming girls with whom she has been so closely associated. They gave her a handsome clock which will occupy a place of honor in her apartment.

The dinner guests were Miss Minnie Smith, Miss Mattie Whitson, Miss Hazel Thomas and Miss Strocker from the Farmers & Merchants bank, and Miss Lena Thomas, the Misses Potter, Miss Alice Trickey, Miss Potts, Miss Rea McKean and Miss McClellan from the First National Bank.

At noon today Mrs. Reeves was hostess at a four-course dinner given in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Palmer, who have been visiting for some time at the U. D. Palmer home.

The M. L. Palmers are from White, South Dakota, and the other guests at the dinner had also resided at some time at that place. They were Mr. and Mrs. U. D. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McConah, Mr. Shelley Horton and his daughter, Miss Mary Horton.

Chinese Social

The King's Heralds and the Young Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church, have planned an interesting Chinese social to be held tomorrow night at the church.

An entertaining program has been arranged, one of the features of which will be Chinese dialogues with the participants in Chinese costume. Special music will be rendered, and Chinese refreshments will be served. The social is being given for the missionary fund and while no admission will be charged a silver offering will be taken. All who attend will be heartily welcomed.

Loren Mead Wins Tryout Honor

Loren Mead, who is now a Cornell University student, is evidently making as good there as his friends had fondly expected he would do. In a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Mead, he states that he won first place in a class of fifteen Cornell Freshmen engaged in a try-out for the freshman intercollegiate debate to take place at Columbia University on April 25.

Loren thus won the honor of representing his college in the debating event. His friends will wish him the same success in the final score that he won in the tryout.

At the Harris Home

The spacious home of Mrs. Marie Harris on Sixth and French street was opened yesterday for the entertainment of the ladies of the Christian church of which Mrs. Harris is a prominent member. A jar of callas adorned the hall and fresias and ferns were used in the living and dining rooms.

There were nearly forty ladies assembled in the inviting rooms and these greatly enjoyed the informal afternoon of conversation and needlework.

The pleasant event was closed by the serving of tea, delicious cake and home-made candy and salted nuts. Mrs. Harris was assisted during the afternoon by her niece, Miss Frances Griffith, of Los Angeles.

Talk on Turkish Conditions

Miss Rebecca Krikorian, an Armenian lady from Alintab, Turkey, will deliver an address in the Narazene church, corner Fifth and Barton streets, this evening at 7:30. She will tell of conditions that exist in that country. She comes highly recommended by such men as Rev. Seth C. Rees.

Class Reception

Extending the "glad hand" to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rankin, the recently elected teachers of the Philatheas and Baracas classes of the First Presbyterian church, the members of those classes gave a reception last night in the church parlors of that church.

A program followed a brief business meeting held before the social part of the evening. The program included instrumental numbers by Miss Hazel Stocklager and Ed Abbott; "The Rosary" sung by Miss Hazel Rowley; readings by Miss Virgil Potts and trombone solo by Ray Donaldson.

The company then adjourned to the church parlors where tables were

ELKS ENJOY VISIT TO WHITTIER LODGE

On business and pleasure (mostly pleasure) bent, a score or more of Elks from the local lodge hit the trail for pastures of their brothers of the antlered herd at Whittier last night, and were the guests of that husky infant, now but little more than a year old, but recognized as one of the liveliest lodges in Southern California.

It being the last meeting night of the old lodge year, and also the occasion of the official visit of District Deputy Gran, Exalted Ruler Parke S. Roper of Santa Ana, it was made an event of celebration. A splendid program of entertainment, consisting of quartet numbers, vocal and piano solos, monologues, etc., which pleased the large crowd present.

At the conclusion of the program a delicious collation was served in the banquet room, and toward the wee sma' hours the visitors returned home, having spent a most enjoyable evening.

The Making of Successful Men
Santa Ana young men can consider with profit the important part that good banking connections have had in the making of successful men.
It is safe to say that the majority of men who make a mark for themselves in business owe much of their success to the fact that they have put themselves in a position to obtain the advice, co-operation and financial help of a good bank at critical times in their careers.
The wisest plan is to build up your acquaintance and credit at the Orange County Savings & Trust Co., before you need its accommodation.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

ADMINISTRATION
OF AN ESTATE
AT ISSUETwo Executors Named in Detlef
Hafner's Will Are Not in California

A legal battle may follow the filing this morning of a petition for the appointment of H. T. Rutherford to be administrator of the estate of the late Detlef Hafner. At the same time a petition for the probate of the will was also filed with the county clerk.

The appointment of Rutherford as administrator is asked by Mrs. Hafner, the widow of the deceased. It is set forth that Edgar H. Mason and William Harm, residents of Bloomington, Nebraska, were named in Hafner's last will and testament to act as the executors, but it is claimed that they are not competent to act in such capacity because of their place of residence.

The estate is valued at $42,000, and the heirs are the widow and her three sons. She is represented by Attorneys L. A. West, A. E. Koepsel and Scarborough & Forky. Hafner died in Santa Ana March 5 last.

Lots of Business

There was very little office work done in the county prosecutor's office today. District Attorney West was engaged either in the superior court or in the justice's court most of the time, while his deputy, A. E. Koepsel, was occupied in Orange prosecuting a misdemeanor case that demanded attention.

"Nothing to do but work," remarked the district attorney, during a breathing spell. "In fact it might be said that we are so busy that we don't have time to do more than we have the time in which to do it."

Appointing Appraisers

Judge West today appointed J. G. Quick of Santa Ana, A. R. Fernald and G. W. Whitsett of Orange as appraisers of the estate of the late Sarah J. Oakes, deceased.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

CHECK OPERATOR
HELD IN BAIL
OF $2,000Accused Man Declared to Be
One of Most Daring of Bad Paper Men

Theodore E. Brueckner, who is declared by the authorities to be one of the most notorious bad-check passers in the country, was given his preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Cox this morning and held in $2,000 bail to await trial in the superior court on the charge of having issued a no-fund check to H. H. Kelley of the Cadillac Garage a few weeks ago.

Brueckner was arrested while he was traveling under the name of J. T. Marshman. At his examination this morning he declared that his true name is Brueckner. He was without an attorney and made a feeble attempt to cross-examine the witnesses who testified for the prosecution. These witnesses were Mr. Kays, an official of the Park Bank of Los Angeles, upon which institution the worthless check was drawn; H. H. Kelley, the garage director; Charles Lowe, an employee of the garage who accepted the paper; and a young man named Walker who saw the check drawn and given in payment for supplies purchased by the prisoner. These included an auto tire, inner tube, jack and pump. The check was for $84.

After his departure from Santa Ana, Brueckner departed in an auto for San Diego. He was accompanied by a woman who gave her name as Higgins. As soon as the check was discovered to be bogus, Sheriff Riddick was notified and he located the accused in the southern city, where he was quickly taken into custody. The woman was not molested, and she was permitted to depart with the auto. Deputy Sheriff Heard brought Brueckner back to this city.

In Los Angeles Brueckner posed as W. B. Higgins. For more than a year and a half every detective agency in that city, including the police, searched day and night for him.

Brueckner first came under the observation of the police almost three years ago, when he lived at No. 615 New Hampshire street, Los Angeles. He was arrested by a Harris detective for passing a small check on a South Broadway store. He presented it in payment for a pair of baby shoes. Brueckner escaped prosecution because the clerk was not positive in his identification. Some weeks later police detectives sent Brueckner to jail for six months for crooked check work.

Nothing was heard from Brueckner for several months after his release. Then saloons all over Los Angeles and some of the department stores complained to the police that a man giving the name of Higgins was stinging them with bad checks. For eighteen months the man worked without falling into the many traps laid for him.

Last February Brueckner made a "clean-up" in one afternoon. A few days before that he opened an account with the Park Savings Bank as J. T. Marshman. About noon he closed his account. That afternoon, armed with his bank book that showed several hundred dollars deposit, Brueckner passed almost a score of checks for hundreds of dollars among the department stores. That night he left the city and was not heard of until he was in the jail here.

Brueckner says that there is in Duquesne (Iowa) a man named J. T. Marshman. In that city some months ago he bought a cheap return ticket to Los Angeles from Marshman. The latter gave him a telegram addressed to himself, for identification if his ticket was questioned. Armed with that telegram Brueckner was enabled to pass many of the checks to which he had signed the name Marshman.

How Moose Jaw Got Its Name.

Moose Jaw is a strange name for a city, and it may be of interest to know how such a name was given. Some fifty years ago, so the story goes, a pioneer with his team of oxen and "prairie schooner," while passing along the banks of the river, was obliged to camp at this point, in Saskatchewan, on account of an accident to his cart as a spoke had fallen out during the day, and the wheel was falling apart. He looked around for something to insert for a temporary brace for the wheel, while his wife busied herself with the evening meal. The pioneer's child, while romping around, found the jawbone of a moose, which she held up to her father, who by this time almost despaired of finding something with which to mend his wagon, and was delighted to find that the jawbone exactly fitted the place of the missing spoke. The Indians thereafter named this part of the river "The Place Where the White Man Found the Moose Jaw." This accounts for the town's unforgettable name.—London Standard.

An Extensive Shave.

When Salmon P. Chase was a school-boy at Worthington, O., he was one day left at home with orders to kill and dress a pig while Bishop Chase and most of the older members of the family were gone. In telling of this experience he wrote in an old letter:

"I had no trouble in catching and slaughtering a fat young porker. I had the tub of water all ready for plunging him in, preparatory to taking off his bristles. Unfortunately, however, the water was too hot, or perhaps when I soused the pig I kept him in too long. At any rate, when I undertook to remove the bristles I couldn't start one of them. They were set! But that pig had to be dressed. I bethought me of my cousin's razor—a new one, just purchased by that spruce young clergyman. No sooner said than done! I got the razor and shaved the pig from tail to snout."

This is undoubtedly one of the most extensive shaves on record.

What Rules the World.

Many years ago John Brougham, Lester Wallace, Artemus Ward and others used to meet after the play at Windhurst's, in Park row, in New York. One night the question, "What rules the world?" arose, and various opinions were expressed. William Ross Wallace, who was present, retired before long and some time later called Thomas J. Leigh from the room and handed to him a poem which he had just written. Mr. Leigh read it aloud to the company, and Mr. Brougham made a happy little speech of acknowledgment. The thing was entitled "What Rules the World," and the first stanza ran:

They say that man is mighty,
He governs land and sea,
He wields a mighty scepter
O'er lesser powers that be.
But a mightier power and stronger
Man from his throne has hurled,
And the hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rules the world.

Sporting Briefs of the Week

[By Hal Sheridan]

What between the eruption of two big leagues, countless minors and the impending on-rush of Gunboat Smith and Luther McCarty, the present spring crop in Sportville's Garden is sure to be a record breaker. The oldest Fanatic can tap the memory vault in his Dome of Thought incessantly without recalling such an abundance of interest as that now manifested in the two major league campaigns. There has been nothing like it since the national pastime was first launched many fleeting eons ago.

In the National League the tenth grapple for a flag between Pittsburgh and New York—rated even—with the titanic tussle between Johnny Evers and Joe Tinker at the head of Cubs and Reds—means a big boom to the old predestined order of things.

The battle between Pittsburgh and New York is sure to be historic and brilliantly fought to an eye-lash finish. The clash between Evers and Tinker is sure to be savage and fought to the end, with the odds favoring Evers in the way of tradition and better material.

The American League fight, now drawing on, is even more interesting. Here we have three sure flag contenders in Boston, Philadelphia and Washington—all facing a driving start and well fixed at every turn. But beyond this we have the highest priced manager in baseball—a pennant winner in four years out of seven starts—handling a tail-end club. We refer to Frank Chance and the New York Americans.

Never before has as much general interest been shown in one manager's welfare. Discarded by the club he made famous, fandom is pulling for Chance to make good. Chance has put his troopers through a hard trial spin in Bermuda and is pointing them home finely conditioned and ready for the best they have. But to finish better than sixth will be little short of a miracle—where at least four clubs, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and Cleveland, will beat him out and where the White Sox are almost sure to do so.

Sportville's interest will be fairly well divided between the great pennant year ahead and impending battles in the prize ring, where the heavy-weight field is again attracting its old-time attention. Gunboat Smith's quick victory over Bombardier Wells, the English champ, has jammed the Californian up against McCarty and those two must soon meet in the White House elimination that leaves only Jess Willard to be counted in.

Jack Johnson can be regarded as through, for no American ring will ever stage him again and the foreign dead-lock is equally taut. So the Smith-McCarty-Willard elimination should settle the question of the white American championship.

Interest in the three-cornered group is intensified by the fact that all three are tough, rugged customers, are there with the wallop and can stand the gaff.

None is a finished boxer, but all three have shown an abiding joy in mixing it at close range where the hardest wallop and the toughest jawbone is generally the deciding factor. This type of fight is generally popular, for it means action—and there should be sufficient action, even though raw and unskilled, when any two of the three bump together with a running start.

And of the three, McCarty still looks to have the edge, as he is only 21 and has been coming forward at every fight. Having enough to beat Kaufman, Flynn and Palmer within two months and enjoying a fight as the average citizen enjoys a meal, he is not to be treated too lightly. But we advise both McCarty and Willard not to permit their jaws to take too many liberties with the 90 mile-per-hour kick employed by a certain Dr. Gunboat Smith.

The wrestling game is beginning to reach a new boom, which shows the different sorts of people required to make up a world.

Johnny Evers says he will show Murphy made no mistake by finishing higher in the National League than Chance does in the American. In the same way we can drive an automobile faster than Ted Sloan could ever push a wheelbarrow—permitting Ted to name the distance and anything else except the referee.

Bombardier Wells lasted 2½ rounds against Gunboat Smith. How many rounds would he have lasted against Jim Jeffries or Jack Johnson at their prime? This can be figured by computing the time it takes one punch to travel 22 inches.

We don't know exactly what the Lipton-New York Yacht Club squabble is all about, but we can hold our claim to any championship in the world if they'll let us name the conditions. The general opinion seems to be that the N. Y. Y. C. lost something in the argument much beyond the value of any championship title of championship cup.

AMUSEMENTS

The Manservant in "Burglars at Brighton"

Herman Reuter, who plays "James"

In addition to directing the stage for "Burglars at Brighton" Mr. Herman Reuter plays the part of the English manservant "James." One of the most amusing scenes in the farce is that where James relates to Penina Perkins, played by Beatrice Meade, the story of how he had been made, at the point of a burglar's revolver, to exchange his clothes for those of the house-breaker. As "James" Mr. Reuter uses a slight Cockney accent which, in addition to his voice of assumed meek humility, will prove diverting, to say the least.

Friday and Saturday, March 28th and 29th, are the dates for "Burglars at Brighton." The prices are 25c, 35c and 50c. Seats are selling at Rowley Drug Company's store. Curtain Friday night at 8:15, Saturday night 8:30 sharp.

MUTT AND JEFF AT THE BELL THEATER

Bud Fisher, the creator of those ever funny and most popular characters so well known to all, old and young alike, has been paid a big sum of money by the Pathe Moving Picture Taking Co. to show him in their famous News of the World Weekly, in the actual work of drawing his wonderful pictures of these amusing fellows. So tonight and Friday night Mut and Jeff will be seen at the Bell Theater, and we find them on their way to the Turkey Balkan war. This picture itself is well worth the price, and is with a lot of other up-to-date subjects in the Pathe Weekly. There are two other big reels with a strong drama and two splendid comedies, while the Hazel-Crawford Comedy Co. in twenty minutes of laughing, will fill out this new show at the Bell Theater for Thursday and Friday nights.

VALUABLE PICTURES FOUND

ROME, March 27.—An announcement has appeared in the "Giornale d'Italia," to the effect that a discovery has been made of some valuable pictures by some workmen, while carrying out some restoration work in the chapel near the stanze of Raphael in the Vatican. The pictures have been viewed by competent judges who attribute them to Fra Angelico.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Poultry of all kinds is firm, with the market showing rather an upward tendency in some classes of fowl. An advance of 1 to 2 cents a pound is predicted for a few weeks hence. The storage of fresh stock is usual in the spring.

Some asparagus is received from Imperial Valley, and brings about 12½¢ a pound. Most of the supply comes from the north. The market is well supplied, and prices should decline in a short time. Considerable northern rhubarb came in yesterday. The price continues at about $1.65 to $2.25 a box. The supply is improving and rates should soon be lower. Tomatoes are practically exhausted. A new supply is not expected for some time. No potatoes or onions were reported in. A small shipment of sweet potatoes arrived. The market on sweets is steadier at a little higher prices.

A few crates of strawberries are received now and then and bring around 20 to 30 cents a box. No apples were reported in. The market is active. Trading in the citrus market is still rather slow and prices remain about the same. Lemons are about firm. Some loquats were in evidence at about 15 cents a pound.

There is a tendency toward weakness in the cheese market, and a decline is not unlikely soon. Butter should go down as soon as receipts improve permanently, which may be a week or so. They were heavy yesterday. Eggs advanced ½ cent. As soon as larger shipments arrive for a day or so they should decline again.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 815 cases; butter, 48,143 pounds; cheese, 234 pounds; sweet potatoes, 35 sacks. Eggs—Ranch, candled, 23¢@24¢; fresh ranch, case count, buying price, 21¢; Petaluma-Santa Rosa extras, 20¢@21¢; northern, case count, 16¢@19¢. Butter—Buying prices: Creamery extras, 37½¢ per lb.; creamery firsts, 32½¢@34¢. Prices to the trade are about 3 cents above these quotations.

WANTED AT ONCE --TWELVE PEOPLE

We are opening permanent offices in Santa Ana, Thursday, March 27th, and we want twelve people down and out to TREAT FREE OF CHARGE. These cases must be well known in Santa Ana as patients, who have exhausted every effort to find a cure for their diseases and are pronounced "so-called" incurable cases.

We will furnish doctor's care and medicine to these twelve patients without charge—this is to demonstrate to the people of Santa Ana and community that we bring to your city and county a treatment that is the Greatest Assistance to nature in the elimination of disease from the human body that has ever been discovered. This offer open ten days only—act quickly.

This treatment is worth to each patient from $200.00 to $300.00 if patient had to pay for the same and all we ask in return for the treatment is a sworn statement, of the patient WHEN CURED, for publication in your daily papers.

To prove to the suffering and afflicted of your city the truth of every claim we make for our Treatment we ask these patients to bring a 4 oz. bottle of urine from a receptacle in which has been stored the urine passed during the night and early morning, this is to enable our physicians to diagnose and fully understand the nature of your disease.

Our Santa Ana offices are under the skilled direction and management of M. St. W. Isaman M. D. of Washington, D. C., who has come to make his home in your beautiful city. His opinion of your case, worth from $25.00 to $100.00, for the doctor is known as an expert in medicine, costs you nothing.

The diseases we successfully treat are rheumatism, stomach troubles, liver trouble and constipation, Bright's disease and diabetes. When we make the statement that Brights Disease and Diabetes have been cured by our treatment numbers of people are living who were cured many years ago and are in good health today. You can see them, talk with them and learn for yourself.

We also treat catarrh of system or any form of bladder trouble and all kidney trouble and blood disorders no matter from what cause. We also treat eczema, old sores that will not heal, certain female troubles without knife, also piles and fistula without the knife; granulated eyelids, epileptic fits, nervous disorders.

We have many patients who will tell you that they were cured by our treatment who had given up all hope of being cured.

We are not Birds of Passage nor our treatment and remedy newly discovered for we have been established over ten years and have proven the truth of our claims to cure hopeless cases of disease in every locality where we have established our offices.

We have our main offices in Long Beach, Calif. We also have offices in Phoenix, Arizona, and San Antonio, Texas, and are reliable in every sense of the word.

We accept no cases for treatment, promising them to be cured, that we believe we cannot cure. We practice no deception in our offices and give our opinions only as to the prospect of a cure in your case after a rigid and careful examination. We administer no poisonous drugs, our own remedy formulated from the laboratory of nature, being in the majority of cases all sufficient to effect a cure.

We will also accept ten cases of any disease, charging only the cost of the medicine, which will not exceed $10.00 per month until cured and ten patients at the cost of the remedy for one month, this to demonstrate to you that in one month your disease may be cured.

There will be no charge for examinations and we reserve the right to determine whether we will or will not accept your case.

A word more—do not look upon this advertisement lightly, as when we are in your city for a period of time and you have seen those cured of their disease whom you know were in a bad condition, you will then regret you did not avail yourself of this splendid offer.

These offers are open for ten days only and will not be given again.

Planting

We are now in the midst of the tree planting for this season in the Yucaipa Valley. Forty thousand trees are being set. Rome Beauty, Wine-saps, Delicious, Arkansas Blacks, and Winter Banana, are the principal varieties being set. These are the varieties that have been well tried out in the valley and produced such remarkable results. Pears and cherries are also being set, both of which do remarkably well in Yucaipa.

The big water developments and irrigating systems are nearing completion. And now for the surface crops. Hundreds of acres of vegetables are growing.

More tomato growers are wanted. The canners are ready to contract for 50 acres more. The Yucaipa tomatoes, large, smooth and solid, are especially valuable for late shipment.

Remember there is no other land proposition in Southern California equal to the Yucaipa Valley when it comes to soil, irrigation and domestic water, modern improvements and profitable results. Not way up north. Not out on the desert. No stones, no cactus, no brush. The whole valley a garden spot. No fogs. No destructive winds. No late frosts. No desert heat, pleasant all winter. Fine schools, churches, newspaper, library, hotel, stores, woman's club, growers' club, park, electric light, automobile service. Rural free delivery and all things that make life attractive in this beautiful valley.

And soon this fine opportunity will be gone forever for the land is selling fast. The price so reasonable, the terms so easy, six per cent interest, two years between payments. We go up every week. One day trip to see it all. Only 64 miles away. Go with us and see for yourself. Reo-lands and Yucaipa Land Company.

BUSY DAYS FOR DEMOCRATS OF COUNTY

Federal Appointments in Sight; Meeting Saturday Should Be Interesting

CONSTABLE JACKSON
AND BEN TARVER, TOO

Believed Local Democrats Can Land Something Outside
the Post Offices

These days, there is always fair weather, when Democrats get together—may be. At least it remains to be seen just how fair the weather will be next Saturday when the Democratic County Central Committee gets together.

The cards sent out by Chairman H. C. Head state that the object of the meeting is to make recommendations for federal appointments. Just as like as not that means something to do with postoffices, and about postoffices there is centered much of hope and interest. It has been a long time since Democrats in this county gave much thought to postoffices. It is different now, and though none of the terms of the Big Four—postmasters at Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton—will keep Republicans in office for a year and a half or more, candidates are both numerous and busy.

Postoffices are not all that will be up for consideration at Saturday's meeting. There are two or three men who have been thinking about making an effort to get into the federal building in Los Angeles. It has just dawned upon some of the local Democrats that in the distribution of good things that must inevitably follow the coming in of the new administration Orange county might as well—nay, must have some of the pie.

There are several stories afloat about the probabilities of an Orange county Democrat landing something. One story is that Congressman Kettner has told somebody or has written somebody that the United States marshal will come from Fresno, and that a deputy will go to Orange county, another to Riverside and a third to Imperial. Another story is that Orange county Democrats can name a deputy United States district attorney, if they so desire. The bee has been buzzing for three or four days, and out of the buzz the central committee may do biz. It seems that Constable C. E. Jackson has been urged to become a candidate for the appointment of deputy United States marshal. Now there are deputies and deputies. Some of the deputships do not look good at all, for the pay thereof is less than the Santa Ana office is now drawing. Again, there is a chief deputyship that has a $2000 salary attached, and that position has been sufficient to hold the attention of the constable for awhile. He has not made up his mind that he is going after the appointment, but if he does there is little question but what he can have the unanimous endorsement of the central committee. Jackson has been a faithful laborer in the Democratic garden for to these many years. Some of Jackson's friends have looked upon him as the probable nominee of the Democrats for sheriff next year.

The likelihood of an Orange county man being named as deputy United States district attorney has interested some of Ben E. Tarver's friends, and Tarver might admit that he has some interest in the matter himself. There is no question but that Tarver is the original Wilson Democrat of Santa Ana. He might have to divide that honor with George Balderston, W. L. Duggan, Charlie Overshiner and one or two others, but none of them can go back further in the Wilson record than can Tarver. If that helps any, Tarver ought to have no trouble getting on the job.

These deputships are of comparatively new interest. The postmaster positions have been on tap for some months, dating away back to the evening of Nov. 5 when the telegraph bulletins indicated a Wilson victory. It seems that Congressman Kettner wants the county central committee to make recommendations right away, and get it off his mind. While decision now may be looking well into the future, still the relief that will follow a vote of the county central committee may cause some of the Democrats to sleep easier.

The county central committee has already made one recommendation. That is, that Fred Albhorn, merchant, and Democrat, be appointed postmas-

PUPILS STUDY FARM SUBJECTS

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn., March 27.—Farming and farming possibilities in Itasca county will be studied as part of the curriculum in the local schools and those of 69 townships in district No. 1. From now on local geography, agricultural possibilities, dairying, the location of lakes and streams in the county, clearing of cut-over land, animal culture, crop rotation—in fact, all that makes for successful farming in the north country, will take the place of studies that are of only theoretical value.

CONDITIONS IMPROVE IN FLOOD SECTIONS

WATER RECEDES; RESCUE WORK POSSIBLE

Early Reports of Fatalities In Ohio and Indiana Were Exaggerated

LIST OF DEAD IN OHIO
500—IN INDIANA 100

Ohio River Is Rising Rapidly and Danger Feared—Traffic
Faces Demoralization

CLEVELAND, March 28.—Word that improved conditions exist throughout the flood sections of Ohio and Indiana, was received today. The water is rapidly receding everywhere making rescue work possible. Expeditions into the flooded districts indicate that the early reports of fatalities were exaggerated. A conservative estimate today places the total dead in Ohio at 500 and Indiana 100. Immediate suffering from lack of food is over on account of the arrival of relief trains.

The Ohio river is rising generally and danger is feared along the river. Telegraph, railroad and commercial business will be demoralized for weeks.

GALLIPOLIS, O., March 28.—A disastrous flood is sweeping down the Ohio River Valley.

The river here is rising eight inches an hour and a height of 55 to 58 feet is expected. This will cause immense damage. The great Kanawha is rising rapidly.

32 DEAD NEAR CINCINNATI—OHIO RIVER IS FAST RISING
CINCINNATI, March 28.—Coroner Foermeier has been notified that thirty-two were drowned at Venice, near here. Three bodies have been recovered.

The Ohio river is thirteen feet above the danger line and is still rising. The residents in the lower districts are fleeing to higher ground. Six bodies floating from the Miami were recovered near here. There were no rains here or at Dayton during the night.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 28.—This city is warned that the flood now passing Terre Haute is expected here tonight. Hundreds are moving to higher ground.

ENCOURAGING ARE REPORTS COMING IN FROM INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 28.—Encouraging reports were received this morning from the Indiana flood region. It is believed that practically all the refugees there have been reached with relief. The situation in Peru has been greatly exaggerated, it is believed. It is now reported that only fifty are dead there.

The Wabash is still rising and trouble is feared in the southwestern section of the state. A conservative estimate of the property damage in Indiana places it at fifty million.

No Death in West Indianapolis
Rumors of heavy fatalities in West Indianapolis proved groundless when a thorough search of the flooded houses failed to reveal a single corpse.

16 Drowned at Howesville
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 28.—Sixteen persons were drowned yesterday afternoon when Eel river flooded Howesville, a small village about twenty-five miles south of Terre Haute, according to a report from Linton. Thirty others are marooned on houseboats and six boats have been sent from Linton to rescue the survivors. All wire communication with the place is cut off.

Trestle Collapses; Four Killed
WASHINGTON, Ind., March 28.—A trestle collapsed under a work train at Blue Hole near here. Four are reported as killed.

"KITTY" POPE GIVES UP $1000 WORTH OF STOLEN JEWELRY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Having turned over $1000 worth of jewelry to the police, Mrs. Katherine Pope, who has just been brought back from Detroit to explain her relation with Owen D. Conn, "the $100,000 burglar," declares that she had taken no more of Conn's plunder out of San Francisco, and reiterated her statement that she had no idea that Conn was obtaining his funds and jewels by criminal means.

The police place little credence in her story but believe she will tell more in a few days. No date for her arraignment has been set.

Pacific Coast May Send $100,000 to Flood Sufferers

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—The coast cities are responding generously to appeals for aid in the flooded states of Ohio and Indiana. It is believed a million dollars will be raised in the three coast states of California, Oregon and Washington.

San Francisco alone will probably send $400,000, thus responding to the generous aid received in her memorable earthquake and fire disaster. Ten thousand dollars has already been sent to Governor Cox of Ohio from Oakland and more is going.

LOS ANGELES ACTIVE IN AID
LOS ANGELES, March 28.—More than $10,000 has already been raised here for the flood sufferers. All the theaters announce that they will give benefits for the flood fund. Clothing and food are being shipped from this city.

Los Angeles will probably send $100,000 to the relief of Ohio and Indiana.

The churches plan to give one contribution at least next Sunday and a special Day of Giving is planned for early next week. Merchants promise to donate a portion of their receipts to the fund on the Day of Giving.

Agents of the Rock Island railroad here have announced they will carry supplies free to the flood districts.

PASADENA GIVES $1000
PASADENA, March 28.—More than $1000 has been raised here for the flood sufferers and more will be raised in the near future.

LONG BEACH 700
LONG BEACH, March 28.—Seven hundred dollars has been raised for the flood sufferers. This city expects to raise $5000 at a mass meeting called by the mayor.

DAYTON DEAD TO GHOSTLY SCENES NOT EXCEED 300 PEOPLE IN FLOODED CITY

Estimate Made After Careful
Exploration of City Where Waters Recede

MUCH SUFFERING BUT
SUPPLIES ARE ARRIVING

City Placed Under Martial Law;
Marooned Have All Been Rescued

DAYTON, O., March 28. [By United Press Staff Correspondent.]—With the flood waters at Dayton rapidly receding, estimates of the dead there vary from one hundred to two thousand. Large areas heretofore submerged are now clear. Hundreds of those marooned in office buildings waded to safety this morning.

Chief of Police Allaba estimates that 850 are dead in Dayton, while George W. Burda, the governor's private secretary, estimates the dead at 2000. President John Patterson of the National Cash Register company, places his estimate at 500, and many other business men say the latter figure is the more nearly correct of any.

Pire broke out again today, burning the Bates planing mill. Hundreds of people are being removed from the marooned buildings today. Supplies and rescuers have reached North Dayton, where fatalities are greatest. Martial law prevails and supplies are greatly needed, especially bread.

ESTIMATE OF DEAD IN DAYTON
IS NOW AS LOW AS 300
DAYTON, March 28.—The dead from the flood and fire here will not exceed three hundred. This is an estimate based on a careful exploration of this city. The flood is rapidly receding. There is still much suffering from famine but supplies are arriving hourly.

Haupt, wife and three children; Mrs. Collins and two sons; Lillie Schumann, Mrs. Schmidt, Miss Schmidt, Mrs. Bond Schattle, Mrs. Carrie Schuntz, Mrs. Thompson, an unidentified girl about twelve years old; George Richardson, Smiley Cupp, Jr.; Ethel Eldermann, Bessie Moseley, John Connell, Mrs. Lillian Tingley, two unidentified babies; Mrs. Schuk, John F. AEOARD GOVERNMENT SPECIAL, ROANOKE, Va., March 28.—"I intend to reach the flood district if I have to go via the Canadian Pacific or an aeroplane. It is practically impossible for President Wilson to reach Ohio now. I will advise him not to attempt it."

This was the statement of Secretary of War Garrison, following the delay of his train 24 hours enroute to Dayton.

CITY IS UNDER MARTIAL
LAW; LOOTERS TO BE SHOT

Zanesville Facing Starvation;
100 Reported as Dead
at Hamilton

COLUMBUS, March 28.—Fifty bodies occupied the morgue at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Half of these have been identified. It is expected the deaths here will reach about one hundred.

Messages from Zanesville say that hundreds of people are facing starvation there.

Ghostly scenes confronted the rescuers today in this city. Josephine Underwood, aged 11 years, was found frozen to death in the branches of a tree. Mrs. B. Tobin and baby were found dead on the rafters in the attic of their home. A sixteen months babe was found alone in an attic, warmly wrapped, smiling at the rescuers. No others were in the attic.

A card pinned to the babe's blanket read "Walter Taylor."

Twenty-eight corpses were recovered on the first rescue trip today.

Arrangements to care for 250 corpses at the local morgue were made today indicating that that number has perished here.

Zanesville is yet isolated and it has been impossible to verify the reports that there are one hundred and fifty dead there. Estimates of the property damage in the state is now placed at $100,000,000.

Martial Law Declared
Martial law has been declared here and Col. Berger has issued orders for the soldiers to shoot all looters.

AGE LIMIT SET FOR CHILD
LABORERS IN NEW YORK

ALBANY, N. Y., March 28.—The Senate passed the Wagner bill designed to prohibit the employment of children under fourteen years of age in the canning industry in this state. The bill, as passed, would not prohibit a person employing his own children, no matter what their age, on his farm, and would permit boys over twelve years to be employed in farm work by others than their parents during July and August.

Minority Leader Brown's amendment, which sought to reduce to ten years the age limit for employment on farms, was defeated.

GENEROUS RESPONSE TO THE RELIEF FUND

Santa Ana and Orange County Helping
The Unfortunate Victims of Disaster;
Benefit Performance Wednesday

Generous and spontaneous has been the response from the people of Santa Ana and Orange county to the appeal that has been made for assistance in behalf of the victims of the extensive floods and fearful storms and conflagrations that have visited Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Subscription lists have been started in practically every town and city in this county, and reports received at the Register office today indicate that every section will contribute liberally.

Subscription blanks may be found at the Register and the Blade offices and at all the local banks. These blanks were prepared by Secretary Metzger of the chamber of commerce and bear the following announcement:

"In accordance with a resolution passed by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County at the meeting held in Santa Ana, March 26, 1913, to raise a relief fund to be forwarded to the Red Cross Society, Washington, D. C., for the benefit of the sufferers of the tornado and flooded districts in the east."

Benefit Performance
A benefit performance is being arranged to be given next Wednesday afternoon in the Temple theater. President Case of the chamber of commerce has entrusted the arrangements to a committee consisting of Dr. A. M. Roberts, chairman; Nate Elm and Charles S. Shaw.

These gentlemen immediately took charge of the work this morning, and expect to have their plans completed promptly for an elaborate and unusually attractive show which will command the attention and attendance of everybody in the city. The performance will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The committee wishes the earnest and active co-operation of all citizens, and especially does it solicit the volunteer services of musicians, both vocal and instrumental. The Bell theater orchestra has kindly offered its services gratuitously, but it is desired to augment it with the services of additional musicians. All volunteers are requested to notify Dr. Roberts with-out delay if they will proffer their accomplishments. All vocalists and instrumentalists, either ladies or gentlemen, are requested to assist. The price of tickets will be announced later. It is hoped that the financial success of the entertainment will exceed any previous similar event.

Contribution From Elks
Santa Ana lodge of Elks was among the first contributors to the general relief fund. A subscription of $100 has been wired by the lodge direct to the Red Cross Society in Washington. This action was taken in preference to sending the money to the Dayton lodge of Elks, as it was doubtful if the officers of the Ohio city lodge could be readily located amid the present scenes of desolation and suffering.

FOUR JAPS AND AUTO CAPTURED BY BLEE

Four Japs and a seven-passenger Packard automobile were captured early this afternoon by Immigration Inspector Harry Blee, and with the capture the inspector probably has put an end to a traffic that the owner of the automobile is thought to have been carrying on in contraband Japanese. The four foreigners and the automobile were taken to Los Angeles this afternoon by the inspector, to be turned over to the authorities there.

Blee was at Myford in his Brush automobile when the big automobile went by. The little machine was turned upon the chase, and every bit of power the little machine had in it was put upon the chase, and every bit of power until he caught the Packard on Chestnut avenue, where he halted the Japanese.

Harry Takaoka, one of the four, asserted that he owned the big car, and that he knew nothing about his passengers except that someone had employed him to take them to Los Angeles, where he has a garage at 309 North San Pedro street. The three passengers thought it time to get busy and they counted out $100. They said they would give it to Blee if he would let them go. Blee thought it a good time to catch the men at offering a bribe. He parleyed with them until he saw a friend, William Cubbon, coming. He stopped Cubbon, and with him as a witness he accepted the $100, and straightaway took the trio to the county jail.

Takaoka has played the part of innocent, but has failed to convince the officers that he has not been engaged in an illegal traffic. City Marshal Jernigan aided in searching the men soon after the arrest. Motorcycle Officer Davenport stated that he saw the automobile go through Santa Ana north-bound a few days ago with seven Japanese in it. Blee searched the car for opium, but found none. One of the prisoners admitted that he came from Mexico less than a week ago.

The car's number is 13,334, which on the state records shows the name of Charlotte Goodman, 3842 Woodlawn avenue, Los Angeles. Takaoka says he bought the car two months ago from a Mr. Goodman for $1700.

'Frisco Waterfront Ownership
Bill Goes From Committee to Assembly

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—An incomplete canvass of both houses of the legislature today indicates that the anti-prize fight bill will never reach the governor. The bill will be recommended for passage by the committees of both houses, but the Assembly will vote against it by a large majority. The indications are that nineteen senators are opposed, with ten doubtful. With the exception of Lyons of Los Angeles county, the delegation of Southern Californians generally will support the bill.

DEBATED—WILL PASS
SACRAMENTO, March 28.—At 1:45 o'clock when recess was taken the senate had failed to reach a decision on the Bohnett red light abatement and injunction bill. The morning session was occupied with the debate of partisans for and against. Indications were that the bill will pass by a large margin.

FATHER AND SON
ARE ELECTROCUTED
Two Allens Who Participated in Bloody Attack in Hillsville
Court House, Va.

RICHMOND, Va., March 28.—Floyd Allen was electrocuted at 1:32 o'clock today, and Claude Allen at 1:36 o'clock, for their part in the Hillsville courthouse murders, after an eight-hour stay granted today at sunrise. Governor Mann refused a final plea for a stay of sentence.

Both men died stoically. Floyd, the father, showed no emotion when he marched from the death chamber. The door had hardly clanged behind his body when his son Claude followed him to the electric chair.

Friends of the Allens made desperate efforts to have the governor extend mercy to the younger prisoner, and they even asked that a commission be appointed to determine the justice of the plea for commutation.

Under Governor Mann's orders, the gold medal which had been bought for Claude Allen, was not presented to him and tonight it is locked in the prison superintendent's desk.

The medal carries the inscription, "For bravery in defending his father." The claim of the defense was that Claude Allen did not begin shooting in the Hillsville courthouse until he was forced to do so in his father's defense.

125 CARLOADS OF ORANGES ARE SHIPPED

Fruit Going From Fullerton District Bringing Good Prices In East

Up to this date more than 125 car loads of navel oranges have been shipped from Fullerton since the cold weather, says the Orange County Tribune. All of this fruit has brought good prices, and not one car has been rejected in the eastern markets. The Benchley Fruit Co. has shipped up to date sixty car loads, and has about fifteen carloads to move. This company up to this time last year had shipped about 150 car loads of navels. Mr. Benchley, manager of the company, stated yesterday that he thought at least 50 or 60 per cent of the navels would be shipped from this district and they now estimate that at least 75 per cent of the Valencia crop will be shipped from the Fullerton-Placentia district.

The Placentia association has shipped 35 car loads of navels from the Placentia house and 35 car loads from the Fullerton house since the cold weather. The company reports having received good prices for its output. This packing-house has been running on full time since March 1st, and has moved out during the past week twenty car loads of fruit.

The Placentia Association will have all of its navels marketed in about two weeks, and Manager Pritchard states that about 50 per cent of the local crop will be moved.

Richardson & Phelps also shipped a few carloads of navels from their packing-house east of the depot. Since the cold snap the Placentia Mutual Orange Growers' Association has shipped twenty car loads of navels from Fullerton, forty-four cars from Placentia and thirty cars from Anaheim. This company is still shipping, but will finish its navel output this week.

All shippers state that the output is much heavier than they thought it would be a month or six weeks ago, and the prices are also better than were expected.

TWO SCHOOL TRUSTEES ARE TO BE VOTED FOR

FULLERTON, March 28.—Two high school trustees will be elected in the Fullerton Union High School district April 4. L. P. Drake of Fullerton and J. G. Launer of La Habra are the retiring trustees and it is said they will not be candidates for re-election. At the request of friends, Attorney C. R. Allen announces that he will be a candidate for election as trustee. No one in La Habra has been mentioned in connection with this office but it is said friends of Theodore Enoch of Brea Canyon have requested him to announce his candidacy.

Mr. Sullivan of Placentia has leased his twenty-acre place to an eastern company for oil development on a good royalty and bonus.

GARDEN SAGE DARKENS GRAY HAIR SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

Restores Its Lustre, Prevents Scalp Itching, Dandruff and Falling Hair

That healthy, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. While it is a messy, tedious task it well repays those whose hair is turning gray, faded and streaked.

Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair and is the best thing known to remove dandruff, stop itching and falling hair.

Everybody chooses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. It costs less and twice as attractive, says a well-known downtown druggist. Rowley Drug Co.

SUGAR COMPANIES ARE MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

Beauty as Well as Wealth and Sweetness to Characterize Factories

Improvements in the way of beautifying the grounds are under way at both of the Santa Ana sugar factories—the Southern California Sugar Co. and the Santa Ana Co-operative Sugar Co.

At the Southern California, gravel driveways are being made, artistically outlined with rough granite, and evidently preparations are being made for lawns and shrubbery. The unsightly deposits of lime-waste south of the factory has been leveled and made to serve the good purpose of filling up a low spot. The whole premises are assuming a very neat appearance, and with the addition of grass and flowers there will be very attractive.

Work along the same line is under way at the Santa Ana Co-operative factory. A. J. Crookshank, general manager for the company, says it is the intention to park the grounds handsomely. At the suggestion of Mr. Perkins, "the rose man," Dorothy Perkins Cherokee roses have been planted about the building and Mr. Perkins guarantees to cover the immense building with them within two or three years and make it "one of the show places of Southern California."

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

All varieties of hay have declined about $1 to $2 per ton. The reason assigned for the falling off is the prospect for a large crop this season, owing to recent rains. The new grain hay crop will not be available until late in the spring, and consequently the market is not likely to become much easier until then. New alfalfa will soon be available, however.

Asparagus was not as plentiful as usual yesterday. Only one firm appeared to have a large supply on hand, and prices in most instances were somewhat higher. A large shipment was expected in late in the afternoon. It is believed that some damage has been done to the northern crop by frost. The canneries will also demand a considerable portion of the output soon. Dealers say good shipments are going east. In limited quantities the vegetable is received from Imperial, and sells for around 17 1/2 cents a pound. White asparagus was quoted in some instances as low as 8 cents a pound.

Artichokes were fairly plentiful, and prices continue lower than they were a week or so ago. The demand for rhubarb does not appear to be very lively, on account of the high prices, and it is probable that there will be a falling off soon. In some instances prices are already about 5 to 10 cents lower than a few days ago. Some off-grade strawberry rhubarb is quoted as low as $1 a box.

Onions are much steadier, as receipts of fresh stock have amounted to practically nothing the last few days. Potatoes are about the same. Sweets are firm and high, compared with recent rates.

Good hot-house cucumbers are cheaper in most cases. There is very little low-grade stuff. The cauliflower received is not considered up to standard, but is pretty firm, nevertheless. Corn husks are selling around 12

Ben Cap apples are somewhat scarce. There has been a little better feeling in the apple market the last few days. Receipts were rather heavy yesterday.

Some loquats were quoted at 10 to 12 cents a pound. Half a dozen crates or so come in at a time now, and the supply is expected to improve steadily. Bananas are firm.

Eggs declined 1 to 2 cents. In most instances the buying price was 19 1/2 cents. Receipts have been heavier the last few days. The present weather should aid the production. Butter receipts were lighter than usual, and the market was firm. Cheese was rather easy.

Turpentine is up 4 cents a gallon. Reported receipts were: Eggs, 736 cases; butter, 26,942 pounds; cheese, 1104 pounds; potatoes, 1340 sacks; sweets, 22 sacks; apples, 4620 boxes. THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ORANGE COUNTY DRIED FRUIT ASSOCIATION NEXT MONTH

By J. G. Berneke, M. D.

The annual meeting of the Orange County Dried Fruit Association is scheduled for Saturday, April 12, and notice of time and place will be mailed to the members. The election of a board of directors, and receiving the secretary's report of the year's business, will be the chief features of the meeting. Members will be gratified to learn that all of the fruit has been disposed of. With the very large crop in the state and the large proportion of "standard" grade in the 1912 crop, it proved very difficult to dispose of the "standards." This has, however, been accomplished, and the final dividend will be paid to the members. Let me emphasize again the importance of raising the standard of our fruit. The export trade will not buy the small or sun-burnt fruit that is graded out as "standard." The people of our country do not take kindly to it, either, and therefore we must quit producing it. It depresses the price. It is a fact, that although the state had the biggest crop of apricots in 1912 which it probably ever had, yet we could have sold carloads more of all the higher grades if we could have furnished them. Fancy apricots are now quoted at 13 1/2 cents per pound to the Eastern buyers.

We may take some comfort in the fact that the 1912 crop is nearly exhausted, and that there will be no old stock on hand to complicate matters for the new crop. This enhances the prospect for a good price.

The association's financial affairs are in good shape. It will enter the coming year free of debt. The building and machinery will be sufficient to handle the crop of the membership without necessitating further outlay. Every member may congratulate himself that he is part owner of a well-equipped packing-house. Those who have thought of withdrawing, because the year 1911 brought such poor returns, and because the returns for the crop must necessarily come in partial payments, should stop to consider that by withdrawing, they relinquish their claim to ownership; that they weaken the association, and by so doing undermine good prices to the growers. Even the outsiders will admit that if it had not been for the association, the price for the last three years would not have been as good. In 1910 it would have been 6 1/2 to 8 1/2 cents, as it was in the northern counties. Here it averaged at least 10 cents. In 1911 buyers expected to pay 8 to 9 cents. Many growers here got 14 cents. Right here let me correct a false story, which has gone into circulation, and which is calculated to create dissatisfaction among the members and to injure the association. The story is that the association was offered 14 cents for its crop and refused the offer. Another version is that it refused an offer of 12 cents per pound. I will say that the person who started either story knows more of the business of the association than its management does or may ever hope to know. And the pity is that it has been believed and circulated by those who are friends of the association, and do not wish to injure it. Our record shows that on Aug. 12, 1911, our secretary, then Mr. Tiede, was instructed to sell 100 tons orchard run at 14 1/2 cents or better; on Aug. 24 the instruction was to sell 100 tons at 14 cents or better. Nothing came of it, and yet the dates show that it was a time when drying had hardly been finished. The first positive offer for any real bulk of fruit came late in the spring, and was for 5 cents a pound. This the directors refused, and a little later accepted one of 6 cents a pound. If the board had not stood faithfully by the members, trying to conserve their interests, the bottom would have fallen out altogether. Let the outsiders and the members remember that no offer of 14 cents would have come to them in 1911, if there had been no association in the field. In 1912 the price would have started with 5 cents per pound, as it started with 5 1/2 cents in 1908. The growers got 7 cents or better because of the associations. The packers were ready to pay 8 cents, but paid only 7 cents, because of the outsiders. And we may look forward to the same experience this year. The associations will boost the price, the outsiders will knock it. This will continue until a good majority of the growers is to be found in the associations.

To our members I say: "In spite of the discouragements, stick to the association. A better day is dawning. We know that the walnut association several times came near going to pieces. But the faithful ones held on, and today it has developed into a tower of strength for the growers. Other associations have had similar experiences."

I wish to commend our membership for its loyalty to the principles of co-operation. It is in the line of progress. And I wish to assure them that every member of the present board is working most cordially and with sacrifice of his time, for the good of the association.

Apricot Crop

Some apricot growers entertain the fear that the frosty nights of this week have injured the crop prospect. As I have had no opportunity to examine other orchards I can only judge by my own. I believe that the frosts have not been severe enough to do harm. My own trees are in all stages of bloom, and early trees have 'cots' the size of a small olive. There is absolutely no sign of injury to be seen. Frosted young fruit would quickly wilt; the blossoms likewise. The bees are working on them, which shows that they are in good condition of development. Possibly the frost was more severe in some orchards than in others. If growers find unmistakable signs of injury in their orchards, I will be glad if they will phone to me (morning, noon or night) as I make it my aim to be posted and to keep the growers posted.

Escondido reported a week or more ago that they look only for a one-third crop, and consequently hope the price will be good.

If the report in the papers concerning the damage from frost in the northern counties is true or near true, the Escondido ranchers will find their hope for a good price realized. I shall have more definite news later.

and we want to say first of all "That it is more of a 1914 car than it is a 1913. It embodies ideas and principles that a number of manufacturers are adopting on next year's cars. The lines of this car are very distinctive and pleasing and the spring action is equal to any $3000 car on the market, which fact we are willing to demonstrate to anyone at any time, in fact we have reason to believe that this car will duplicate the "BIG HIT" made by the Model "42"

HANDS ACROSS THE CONTINENT

With infinite pity and love for those who suffer, we cannot but have in our minds the thought that, in comparison with such elemental disasters as so frequently afflict many and even most parts of the country east of the Rockies, such occasional climatic troubles as we have here in Southern California are indeed trivial.

A week or ten days ago northern Louisiana and northeastern Texas, and parts of Missouri and Arkansas were stricken with cyclonic fury, with much resultant devastation. Then came the Omaha disaster, quickly followed by appalling death and destruction in Ohio and Indiana. Looking and thinking on these things our late frosty visitation sinks into insignificance as do our occasional dry years when compared with the frequently recurrent crop troubles of our friends in the East.

All of which should make us thankful and charitable. We are signally blest, and therefore are our hearts and purses open to sympathize and support our far-away brothers and sisters in their hour of trial.

THE LURE OF CALIFORNIA

At a recent farewell dinner in San Francisco to a popular business man who was about to leave to take charge of the New York office of the trust which has absorbed his business, it came out that the guest of the evening had offered his directors to work for five years for nothing, if they would let him stay in California, but they insisted, instead, on transferring him to New York at an increased salary.

This is only a minor personal incident, but it illustrates the lure of California. Here was a gentleman well-connected, who knew intimately both California and New York, who preferred to work for nothing in California to doing the same work for a large salary in New York, even with two or three months' leave in California every year.

And who that knows would hesitate to make the same choice if he could afford it? New York ugly, uncomfortable and disheartening, with a climate whose best days are only just endurable, dirty, noisy, and nerve-racking, an enormous mass of petty people engaged in petty affairs, with a few great ones, engaged in exploiting the rest, and a few inspired idealists, lost from sight in the crowd, a city which wears out the body and weighs down the soul—who for any stress but that of necessity would live in New York, and who that knows California would leave it?

There is a glamor of distance about a great city that soon disappears on contact. But the glamor of California never wanes. Here beauty is the common environment and comfort is unescapable. Here there is opportunity. Whoever can do anything worth doing finds all men ready to have him do it. There is more than enough for every one to do, and there is no crowding and jostling at the door of opportunity. There is room to grow and to breathe and to work. If one must needs get rich, he can draw from the bounty of nature rather than from the spoilation of his fellow men. And if he has some more important and pleasanter aspiration, that too, is open freely before him. Here is the atmosphere of hope, of progress, of an abounding future. One sees the world growing around him. Work is worth while. Or, if pleasure is wanted, here is the playground of the continent.

It is the lure of California, and we all feel it.—California Outlook.

PLAN CONCRETE HOTEL

GEDNEY FARM, White Plains, N. Y., March 28.—This place has been acquired by a New York corporation, and development work now in progress will make this 360-acre estate notable. Gedney Farm, formerly the property of Howard Willet, is well known to the country generally. A hotel now being erected on the property will be of concrete, with accommodations for 300 guests. The hotel will be conducted on both European and American plan.

PLACED ON SYSTEM LIST

Ft. Worth, Tex., March 28.—Under a recent ruling of the management of the Frisco system, employees of the North Texas lines will be regarded as system employees and system courtesies extended them. One of these is that when an employee has served 20 consecutive years he will be given an annual pass over the entire system, while after 25 years' continuous service the employee will be given an annual for himself and wife over the system.

Dr. A. T. Vance, osteopath, offices 114½ East Fourth St. Sunset 239.

What's the price of a good suit of clothes?

TWENTY-FIVE dollars. You can buy our clothes for less than that—$20, $18; you can pay more than that—we have very fine clothes at $27.50, $30, $32. But $25 is a good average price; most men who appreciate good quality and style in clothes, good tailoring and fit, are willing to pay as much as $25.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

suits at $25 will surprise you; particularly if you've been accustomed to going to a custom tailor to have clothes made to measure; more particularly if you've patronized the so-called low-priced tailor; most particularly if you're getting what you think are made-to-measure clothes at $25 or less.

You'll get all-wool fabrics; trimmings, linings and other materials of a high grade; tailoring of a very high order—the things that make a suit wear well, and keep shapely. You'll get the value of best style standards and originality of design; you'll get clothes that fit you well.

And you'll gain from $10 to $20, either in greater value at the price; or lower price for similar value.

Better see how true this is; $25 is a price you can afford, and you'll say so when you see the clothes. Better come and look at the new spring styles.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

C. E. Business Meeting

The regular monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor will be held at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, April 4. This is an important meeting, as new committees are to be chosen. All the members are urged to attend.

Annual Congregational Meeting

On Tuesday evening, April 1, at 7:30, the annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held in the church.

At this meeting reports from the various societies and boards of the church will be heard and other items of business will be attended to. Preceding this meeting, supper will be served by the women of the church.

The women wish to extend a cordial invitation to the members of the congregation to be present at the supper, which will be served promptly at 6 o'clock in the primary room. After the supper adjournment will be made to the auditorium of the church for the business of the annual meeting.

In Omaha Cyclone

Two sisters of Miss Lida Turner are living in the cyclone district of Omaha, but they have been heard from and say their house was not disturbed.

Domestic Science Section

A meeting of the Domestic Science Section was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chas. Bowman. There was a demonstration of hot bread and an interchange of helpful ideas about economy of labor in household affairs and helps to make housework easier.

Mrs. Chas. Bowman and Mrs. Byron Johnson were hostesses. A three course luncheon was served and the ladies were given tiny baskets of Easter eggs as souvenirs. Those present were Mesdames Leiby, Nealley, Romer, Preble, Sharpless, Johnson, Roy Smith, and Miss De Long. The decorations of pink roses were beautiful and a color scheme of pink and white was carried out.

Picnic at Newport Beach

A party composed of several classes of the Presbyterian Sunday school—about fourteen girls and their teachers—went to Newport Beach last Monday for a picnic. The girls walked over and caught the early morning car to the beach, the ladies going a little later, taking with them a delicious picnic dinner. It is needless to say the whole party enjoyed the picnic to the fullest extent.

Easter Party

Last Saturday evening the Easter party given by Mrs. W. L. Shatto at her home, to the Young People's class, was pronounced very enjoyable indeed. Mrs. Shatto's endeavors to promote sociability among the young people were highly successful. Refreshments of Easter eggs, wafers, olives, ice cream and cake were served amid decorations of tulips, smilax and lilies.

Missionary Society Meeting

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Tustin Advent Christian church held an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Cane in Santa Ana. There were about twenty present and a delicious picnic dinner was served on the lawn.

Easter Decorations

The two churches in Tustin last Sunday would have compared very favorably with any of the large city churches in the decorations for Easter.

At the Presbyterian church a beautiful cross of smilax and dainty white flowers and white roses were the accompaniment of a pyramid of calla lilies banked around the pulpit and almost enveloped the rostrum. A profusion of the same beautiful lilies and flowers decorated the Advent Christian church. The decorating committees were to be congratulated on the effect.

Miss Edith Shatto Married

Miss Edith Shatto, daughter of W. L. Shatto (who for several years has been secretary of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society at Milwaukee, Wis.) was married to Frederick A. King on March 8. Mr. King is a graduate of Yale college and has been connected with the bureau of labor in Milwaukee. They will come to California in about a month and expect to make their home here.

Pythian Sisters Visit Orange

Two automobiles carried about eight members of Wisteria Temple No. 27 to Orange Monday evening, March 24, to fill the offices and assist Grand Chief Mary D. Offerman of Rio Vista and District Deputy Harriet V. Myers of Pasadena, in instituting a Pythian Sister temple at that place. Anaheim sent a degree staff which put on some very pretty floor work.

After the initiatory work the officers of the new temple were installed by the grand chief, assisted by Mrs. Flora Angeli and Mrs. McCann of Anaheim.

In the Tustin party were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Culver, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vahlenburg, Miss Lena Vahlenburg, Mrs. C. A. Nordstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McCharles.

A banquet was served at the close of the session. The tables were decorated with a profusion of beautiful geraniums and green trailing vines. These flowers, which are so scarce now in most places, came from Villa Park and delighted the eyes of all who saw them. The ride over and back was fine, though coming back was rather cool after 12 o'clock. A party will go from Tustin to Los Angeles to attend the district convention of Pythian Sisters, which will be held April 3, at Miramonte Temple.

Literature Section

The Tustin Literature Section of the Ebbl Club will meet with Miss L. E. White at the home of Mrs. C. E. Utt, next Tuesday afternoon.

"Ransom Home" Report

The ladies of the Tustin W.C.T.U. met at the pleasant home of the president Mrs. A. L. Shatto.

The meeting was opened by singing "Jesus, savior, Pilot Me," and "The Lord is My Shepherd." Mrs. Shatto led the devotions in a very impressive manner, choosing for scripture reading Acts, 9th chapter, and part of the 5th chapter of Matthew, and then followed in a very earnest prayer.

The ratification of the new superintendents then took place. The subject of Ransom Home was then taken up. Mrs. M. T. Smith, superintendent of this department, gave a very interesting and complete report of how his home for aged women is conducted. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. W. R. Rawlings visited the home recently and found very satisfactory conditions existing there. Mrs. Wood, the matron in charge of the home, was very pleasant and courteous. Mrs. Wood has been here for several years and understands just how to make these old ladies feel happy and contented. Each one has a room of her own and takes care of it if able. There are nineteen ladies in the home at present, some of them life members.

Mrs. S. M. Brown, parliamentarian for the union, conducted one of her interesting drills. It was a suffrage drill and caused quite a lively discussion of subjects which the women were especially interested in, prop-

The Rose Maiden
The soloists who are taking part in the Rose Maiden, met at the home of Mrs. Arnold Peck on Wednesday evening for an informal rehearsal, and all present were surprised and entranced at the beautiful work contained in these numbers. While the choruses ring with sadness and bring enthusiasm to the listener, the solos mellow the heart and mind and bring thoughts of happiness and peace.

The sale of seats has been very good so far and a large attendance assured. The Rose Maiden will be presented at Elks Hall next Tuesday evening and will be well worth a visit to hear.

Merry-Go-Round Club
The Merry-Go-Round Club was entertained yesterday by Mrs. W. H. Harrison of Ross street. Smilax and chrysanthemums were used in decorations of the house. Refreshments were served in cafeteria style. The club will next be entertained by Mrs. C. R. of Ross street.

Dinner Party
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stearns entertained last evening for half a dozen friends with a pleasant dinner party. Miss Wilson, one of the guests, was formerly friend in Arizona who is now living in Santa Ana. Following the dinner the evening was spent delightfully in music and conversation. The three young ladies who comprised half of the dinner guest list, both in and pay, and contributed many charming vocal and instrumental numbers. They were ably seconded by Mr. Stearns, who plays the flute admirably.

After having been critically ill for several weeks with an exceptionally aggravated case of blood poisoning, Mrs. Robert M. Wallace of 848 Paragon street was today declared by Dr. E. L. AMUSEMENTS

"Burglars" Tonight

At the Grand Opera House yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock everything was bustle and confusion. Property men were hurrying hither and yon with their lists of "props"; the stage carpenter had a worried look on his face as he shouted his orders to his assistants on the stage or in the "flies"; Herman Reuter was in all places at once giving orders now to the electrician, now to the last young actor or actress who wanted a hint as to costume or make-up. Everyone was on pins and needles. For it was the occasion of the final dress and scene rehearsal of "Burglars at Brighton."

At last everything was quiet. A hush of expectancy came over actors and stage hands. All at once "Take it up!" was heard and the big curtain rose and disappeared somewhere in that dim region known as the "grids." Beatrice Meade walked out on the stage to say her first speech and the rehearsal was well under way. It soon became apparent that the weeks of nerve-racking rehearsals had not been mispent, for everything went smoothly. All the speeches and all the actions slipped quietly into place like the cogs of a well-oiled machine.

When the rehearsal was over there was no doubt in the minds of any who saw it, that "Burglars at Brighton" was destined to make a tremendous mark in the history of local amateur theatricals.

Tonight the curtain will rise at 8:15 and tomorrow night at 8:30. There are still a few choice seats left at Rowley Drug Company's store, at the prevailing prices, 25, 35 and 50c.

LINCOLN SCHOOL

[By Nettie Crutchfield]

At the Parent-Teacher's meeting, Thursday, March 20th, Mr. R. J. Hamilton presented the seventh-grade boys with a banner for winning the broad-jump in the Orange County Triangle Meet. The boys are very proud of winning this banner from all of the other seventh graders in the county. Mr. Hamilton gave a very interesting and profitable talk to the boys on the team. Carl Burns thanked him, in behalf of the members of the team, for the beautiful trophy. By Mr. Hamilton's request, the Parent-Teacher's Association donated a banner, which has just been won by the Orange Grammar School.

The well-executed piano solo by Gladys Burns was warmly applauded, after which the second-grade girls, adorned with dainty caps and aprons, under the leadership of Miss Snure, furnished an interesting number, consisting of a Dusting song, a recitation, and a Lullaby song. This feature of the program was much enjoyed and reflected great credit upon the teacher.

Mrs. L. R. May was elected as delegate to the Orange County Parent-Teacher's Federation that met at Anaheim.

The president appointed the following nominating committee: Mrs. G. P. Hill, chairman; Miss Pease, and Mrs. Langley.

A very interesting paper was then read by Miss Pease on Examinations.

Mrs. I. M. Webber gave a profitable paper on Socializing Arithmetic, in which she emphasized the importance of teaching grammar school pupils the value of money.

Mrs. G. P. Hill followed with a presentation of the Savings Bank System as adopted by many schools, and

MRS. EATON IS HELD FOR THE MURDER OF REAR ADMIRAL EATON

PLYMOUTH, Mass., March 28.—Mrs. Jessie Eaton was indicted yesterday afternoon for the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Eaton. The widow, who is twenty years the junior of the naval officer, was arrested last Thursday. The indictment charges that Mrs. Eaton placed arsenic in a cereal drink which the admiral took with his meals.

The evidence upon which the widow was arrested revealed that much of the family life of the Eatons had been unhappy.

CURE FOR CANCER
John H. McFadden of Quaker City, Announces Belief of Having Made Such Discovery

LONDON, March 28.—"I believe I have discovered a cure for cancer," said Mr. John H. McFadden of Philadelphia, who is one of the three hundred first class passengers aboard the Mauretania, which left Liverpool last Saturday for New York. "I have been carrying on a series of experiments in my laboratories in Liverpool for some years," he continued. "Scientific pursuits are my hobby, and I believe by next May I shall be able to make public the discovery to which I have referred."

TO MAINTAIN SCHOOLS

WINDSOR, Ont., March 28.—It will require $75,000 to educate Windsor children this year, according to the budget. Of this amount $53,000 is required for public schools and $22,000 for the Collegiate Institute. Higher salaries are being paid school teachers this year.

TO ERECT GAS PLANT
KINGSTON, Ont., March 28.—To carry its dollar gas, Kingston will have to erect a coal gas plant at a cost of $60,000, as, owing to the increased price of oil, the plant will this year drop $10,000. A site along the waterfront is being sought.

Trout season opens April 1st. See Hill & Walker, the experts on fishing tackle, 221 West Fourth street.

Why not a pair of glasses? See Dr. Loerch, 116 East Fourth Street.

Prof. Roberts discussed its advantages together with the needs of the grammar school.

The association assembled voted its approval of the system and recommended its adoption by the Lincoln School. The president urged a large attendance at the next meeting, to be held in May, at which the association officers will be elected.

McKINLEY SCHOOL

[By Eva Nininger]

Interest in outdoor sports is being aroused at McKinley school by the indoor base-ball league which is composed of four boys' and four girls' teams. About one hundred and forty pupils take part in the games, and the rivalry is very keen.

This league has a percentage column and a regular schedule, which is three games weekly.

On Friday next a track meet will be held between McKinley and Spurgeon at the grounds of the latter.

SPURGEON SCHOOL

[By Miss Eleanor Egge]

Mr. R. J. Hamilton of the Triangle League visited Spurgeon School last Thursday. He introduced a new game called circle-ball, and coached the eighth grade boys in athletics.

Major Byres, a veteran of the Civil War, and ex-consul general to Italy and Switzerland, addressed the students Thursday. He recited several poems of his own composition, and told some thrilling experiences of the Civil War.

The Parent-Teacher's Federation of Orange County will meet in Santa Ana in the fall, at which time the Spurgeon Parent-Teacher's Association will be hostess.

CAPT. AMUNDSEN TO TAKE HYDROPLANES TO FROZEN NORTH

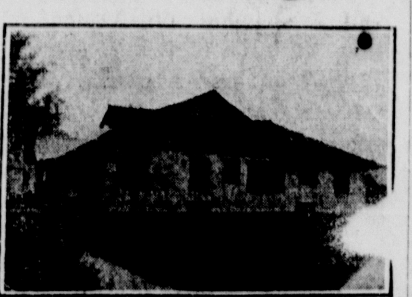

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Before Captain Amundsen, the discoverer of the South Pole, sailed for Eureka, Cal., yesterday he signed a contract to buy two hydro-aeroplanes, which he will take with him into the arctic on his next voyage of exploration in 1914.

Amundsen made his first flight as a passenger with Silas Christoffsen Tuesday, and yesterday he was able to announce his complete plans. Before setting sail from this city for the Northwest Passage in June, 1914, he will study flying scientifically for three months from every angle and will go north prepared to repair any damage his planes may suffer.

Amundsen believes the hydro-aeroplanes will be particularly useful in the summer months when there is much open water, for observations and reconnoissances.

McFarland-Watson Meet Tonight in 20-Round Bout
SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Tommy McFarland, claimant of the Pacific coast championship, and "Red" Watson, lightweight, the two top-notchers in San Francisco's four-round game, will meet here tonight in a twenty-round bout to settle the question of supremacy.

BUARO POULTRY GROWER PAYS $10 FOR FIFTEEN EGGS

Not many people would have the nerve to pay $10 for setting of 15 eggs to be entrusted to even the best of biddies or the most reliable of incubators.

However, T. H. Bowen, the successful poultry grower and owner of the White Minorea Poultry Yard at Buaro, is different from the most of us. He had the requisite courage to put up ten good dollars for just such a proposition and today received a consignment of 15 precious White Minorea eggs for hatching purposes in his big yards. These eggs are the product of famous White Minorea prize-winners at the recent international poultry show at Madison Square Garden, New York. The particular prize winner that gives class to this setting of eggs is a famous cock who carried off prizes galore and is considered the most famous White Minorea cock in the world.

Mr. Bowen thinks the eggs he received today as cheap for $10 and naturally expects to reap a handsome reward from his investment.

ORANGE JURY UNABLE TO AGREE ON VERDICT

ORANGE, March 28.—The jury in the case of Trinidad Estrada, charged with serious misdemeanor, was unable to agree upon a verdict yesterday afternoon and was finally discharged by Justice Fullerton. The jury stood 8 to 4 for acquittal. The case will be retried April 17.

GERMANY TO PROTECT BIRDS

BERLIN, March 28.—Dr. Seif, the German colonial minister, recently expressed himself as being an enemy of the destruction of birds of paradise and other tropical songsters. The recently imposed tax upon exported birds from New Guinea, he said, was only a temporary check, and he trusted before long that the export would be altogether prohibited by law.

Case Suddenly Halts
There was an abrupt halt to the trial of the action brought by Charles L. Horton against Public Administrator Winbiger in the superior court, when the plaintiff's counsel yesterday afternoon asked for permission to file an amended complaint. This was granted. The suit involves the appointment of administrator for the estate of the late Lucy J. Brown, and half interest in thirty acres of land. It appears that Horton had been nominated as administrator of the estate. He is a grandson of the deceased but a grand-daughter of Mrs. Brown succeeded in having Winbiger appointed. L. E. Evans of Anaheim is attorney for the plaintiff and Attorney F. C. Spencer represents the defendant.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

Imbroglia Fisticuffs
There was trouble yesterday on the Mexican border near Huntington Beach where a regimento of Mexicanos are drilled daily in work on William Newland's rancho Americano.

The conflicting reports of the engagement leave much to be guessed at, but it appears that Aurelio Peyera was in a fight there, and that the leader of the opposition that he met with was none other than Amado Alcala, but not alcala.

Senor Peyera alleges and asseverates that Alcala played havoc with the peace, comfort and dignity of said Peyera, while both men were in the vicinity of the Huntington Beach canneries yesterday. Peyera swears Alcala was guilty of "offensive, loud and tumultuous conduct." The accused was taken before Justice Cox this morning, and when an interpreter explained to him his troubles, he shook his head and pleaded "not guilty." His bail was fixed at $10 and his examination for April 16.

WAR VETERAN HAS MENTAL TROUBLE

Almost half a century after he had fought the battles of his country, and bowed with the weight of years of toil and tribulation, Gideon W. Myers found himself at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the superior court at the sunset of his life called upon to answer the charge of being mentally incompetent. Myers is well known to many residents of this city and county, for he has been hereabouts for many years. He was taken into custody a day or two ago at Huntington Beach because of his peculiar actions. He has become imbued with the idea that he has a son in Pennsylvania who is in trouble and is also laboring under delusions that keep him talking about airships. He was first taken to the Soldiers' Home at Sattelle but returned to this county as there was no place for him at that institution.

Let It Carefully Alone
Members of a certain yacht club of a town on Long Island sound tell of a Chicago man who last summer was decoyed into acting as crew for an enthusiastic yachtsman there.

"Let go the jib sheet!" was one of the first orders given the Chicago person.

"Se here!" came in indignant tones from the latter. "You ought not to talk to me that way. As a matter of fact, I am not touching the thing!"—San Francisco Examiner.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face May Stay Covered

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use ointment.

This prescription for the removal of freckles is the discovery of an eminent skin specialist, and is so uniformly successful that it is sold by Mateer's Drug Store under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of ointment—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes: "All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1.00. Recommended by all druggists.—Advertisement.
